Index to Record and Guide Vol. LXXVI.

For New York Auction Sales, Conveyances, Leases, Mortgages, Projected Buildings and Advertisers.

NOS. 1946 TO 1972. JULY—DECEMBER, INCLUSIVE. 1905

PREFACE.

The following is the semi-annual Index of Volume LXXVI. of the Record and Guide, containing complete lists of the Auction Sales, Conveyances, Leases, Mortgages and Buildings Projected in New York City during the last six months of 1905. Those wishing to keep a file for permanent reference should see that all the numbers are complete and have them bound. Cost of binding $2.00 per volume. A suitable temporary binder, holding one volume, can be obtained at the office, 14 and 16 Vesey street; price, one dollar.

THE KEY.

* Before any page No. indicates an Auction Sale.

† Before any page No. indicates a New Building Projected.

Figures in parenthesis are leases.

Figures preceded by capital letters are mortgages, said capital letter indicating the first letter of the name of the mortgagor.

Figures without any signs whatsoever are Conveyances.

EXAMPLE.

Monroe st, from Catharine st to Market st.. 17, C 34, (130), †275, *473.

On page *473 an Auction Sale will be found.
On page 17 a Conveyance will be found.
On page C 34 Mortgage will be found.
On page †275 will be found Plans for a New Building.
On page (130) Lease will be found.

AUCTION SALES.

The * appearing before any number indicates the page on which to find an Auction Sale.

CONVEYANCES.

are distinguished by numbers without having signs attached thereto. In many instances there will be found streets, etc., indexed under pages which, on being examined, show at once that they are not in their proper order according to our customary alphabetical and numerical arrangement. A further examination will disclose the fact that while the properties appear more prominently under the other street descriptions, they nevertheless extend to the streets, etc., indicated by the Index, and having a frontage on same have been included in the paging, and it will necessitate a somewhat more thorough search than usual to locate it. The Leases, Mortgages, Auction Sales and Projected Buildings are indexed in a similar manner to the plan followed with the Conveyances.

LEASES.

The figures in parenthesis denote that the transaction on the page given is Leasehold, an assignment of lease or a lease running for a short or long term of years. This explanation is made so that subscribers searching for transfers in fee can at once distinguish between the former and the latter without referring to the pages mentioned.

MORTGAGES.

All the mortgages are indexed against the street or avenue in which the property is located, and memoranda added to enable searchers to find the particulars in "The Record and Guide." See "Example." The streets and avenues are so subdivided that very few references are necessary. All readers of "The Record and Guide" are aware that the mortgages appear weekly in alphabetical order, so that they have, so to speak, a weekly index of mortgagors. This publication of an index against property completes the information which those interested may require.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS

are included under the same general heading, and are distinguished by the † which precedes the numbering.

Auction Sales, Conveyances, Leases, Mortgages and Projected Buildings.

BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN.

STREETS.

NOTE.—Longitudinal streets, roads and places, such as the Bowery, Boulevard, Broadway, etc., which run parallel with the various avenues, will be found in alphabetical order amongst the avenues.

THE strength which the stock market showed last week has naturally not been as well maintained during the current week. It was not to be expected that prices would rise continuously and considerably. There is still very little interest taken in the stock market outside of professional speculators; and under such circumstances the taking of profits, whenever there are any, keeps the market-pace tolerably slow. Moreover, the week before a holiday period, which lasts several days, is not likely to be a week of activity and advancing prices in a professional market, because speculators do not like to carry considerable lines of stocks over such an interval. As to the general situation its good and bad points remain unchanged. On the side of higher prices are good crop prospects, increases in railway earnings, a fair volume of general business and a probable increased rate of dividend distribution by a number of railway and industrial companies. The conditions which will tend to moderate any bull campaign are, however, not to be despised. Increased dividends have already been pretty well discounted; there is no room for any considerable increase in the price of many securities, merely on an income basis; and as the fall approaches there will probably be some stringency in the money market. The balance inclines in favor of higher prices, but not for much higher prices and a slight change in the situation might tip the scale in the other direction.

BUILDING in the Bronx continues to be extraordinarily active, and it continues to be confined chiefly to tenements. During the first six months of 1905, omitting only the last week, plans were filed for 1,157 new buildings to be erected at an estimated cost of $18,962,415. The amount of money which is being invested in Bronx improvements is 2½ times as large as it was last year; and it is five times as large as it was only two years ago. It is, furthermore, larger than the amount of money which was being spent in Brooklyn last year and constitutes almost two-thirds of the unprecedented rate of expenditure in Brooklyn at the present time—all this in spite of the fact that Brooklyn has about four times the population of the Bronx. of the whole amount of money, which is being spent upon new building in the Bronx, almost three-quarters goes into tenemente. Plans have been filed up to date for 350 brick tenement houses to be erected at an estimated cost of $13,916,500, and the people who live in these tenements will almost all of them work in Manhattan, because the plans filed call for the construction of very few new business buildings. The Bronx is becoming more, rather than less, dependent on Manhattan for its growth and prosperity. If all the residential accommodations now being built in the Bronx are occupied with inhabitants, the population of that Borough must be increasing at a remarkable rate. The 350 new brick tenements will accommodate on the average 100 people each, which means room for an increased population of 35,000. Besides this, plans have been filed for 35 new frame tenements, which will accommodate another 1,000 people; 110 brick dwellings, which will accommodate at least 600 people, and about 475 new frame dwellings, which will accommodate fully 2,500 people. Thus living room is being provided for an increase of almost 40,000 inhabitants in six months, or if the same rate is continued, for over 75,000 new inhabitants during the year. By the time the next federal census is taken there ought to be at least 600,000 living in the Bronx, and perhaps as many as 700,000. The figures would be still larger, if the current rate of increase were maintained, but after a year or two there will be a falling off, because of the inadequacy of the means of transit to Manhattan.

WHATEVER may be the ultimate effects of the new mortgage tax, its immediate effect will undoubtedly be to increase the prevailing rate of interest for real estate loans by one-half of one per cent. The money-lenders will raise their percentage by that amount, and the borrowers will be obliged to pay it. Thus, the expense of carrying real property in New York City will be increased by something over $3,500,000 each year. It will be just as if the tax rate were increased ten or fifteen points, and its effect will be precisely the same. The real estate owner will pay the tax, unless he is so rich that he can carry his holdings without borrowing; and he will get it back out of his tenants if, and when, he can. In the present prosperous condition of real estate renting in New York, the increased burden will not make so very much difference; but it will at the same time arouse the resentment of every body who buys a piece of real estate and cannot afford entirely to pay for it. The harsh fact remains that the owner of real estate, who now pays nine-tenths of the local taxes, will be obliged hereafter to pay a still larger proportion of them, and will be obliged to give up to the state $3,500,000 more of his revenue. The situation is made more laughable, if not more pleasant, by the fact that this sum is collected from the owner of real estate for the purpose of relieving him from state taxation. Five dollars is taken out of one pocket in order that four dollars or less may not be taken out of another; and the burden will fall with unequal severity upon New York, because of the exceptional activity of real estate in that city. There never was a clumsier, unwiser, less justifiable special tax imposed, and the people who after July 1st will suffer from its consequences will note with pleasure the effect of such stupid legislation upon the composition of the next Legislature.

OUR contemporary, "The American Architect," has something to say about a firm of paint-makers who recently sent out a letter to architects offering any member of the profession a commission of "Five Dollars per barrel" if he would specify the paint manufactured by the commission-giving firm. Our contemporary feels that this is rather a bold offer of a "business discount," but after all, is there not a certain straightforwardness in its brutality that makes it pleasanter to contemplate than other more delicate manifestations of private graft in the architectural profession and the building trades? Candidly, we would rather deal with this "Five Dollar a barrel man" than with more reticent firms that use the "discount system" as a regular adjunct to their business and "stand" for any reasonable amount of blackmail levied upon them by periodicals and architectural catalogues in the name of the profession, or some member of it. No one is called on to believe all the stories that are told before reaching the conclusion that the relationship between the architectural profession and the building trades is not by any means as wholesome as it should be or it might be. One may fairly suppose that the "ethics" we hear so much about sounds bigger than it bulks in substance. Indeed, only recently the observation was made that "Outside of politics in New York and Philadelphia, there is nothing very much worse than the architectural crowd." We object to the "nothing worse," but as a matter of fact there is more "profession" in professionalism among architects than there ought to be, and the architectural societies should take the matter in hand and do something to make their standards substantial. It is a point in favor of licensing architects; then if the profession were regulated by the State, the penalty of revocation of license could be imposed upon the architect who entered into any one of the hundred illicit side practices that beset his transactions with building material men.

AS the plans of the New Jersey Tunnel Company becomes more definite, it is evident that the trolley tunnels will make New Jersey a formidable competitor with Long Island and the Bronx for the overflow from Manhattan. It is now stated that an express service will be established, which will carry passengers from the Manhattan terminals to Newark in thirty minutes; and such a service will bring Newark as close, if not closer, to the financial district as the subway has brought that part of the Bronx which it serves. If the operating management of the Hudson River tunnels can make this claim good, it looks as if they ought to deprive steam railroads, such as the Jersey Central, the Lackawanna and the Erie, of a large share of their local traffic, and force them eventually to combine for the purpose of establishing a terminal somewhere in Manhattan. The day is evidently approaching when the Hudson River ferries will not play a larger proportionate part in the traffic across that water than the East River ferries do in the traffic to Brooklyn and Long Island City. New Jersey will be built up as fast as Brooklyn is being built at the present time, and Manhattan as a business center will be immensely the gainer thereby. Manhattan wage-earners will be able to obtain better and cheaper living accommodations than ever before and the residents of New Jersey will travel to Manhattan more frequently than they do at present in order to make their purchases and to have a good time. From the trolley terminus at Greeley Square, they will be able to reach conveniently all the important shops, theatres and restaurants in New York, a fact that will help particularly the big enterprises, such as the Hippodrome and the department stores. Manhattan will become more than ever a city of colossal business undertakings, because the population of these suburbs will come to New York only to do the popular things, to take in those amusements and to participate in those advantages which are peculiar to the biggest city in the country. Of course it will take time before the effect of these new conditions are felt; but in the course of the next fifteen years, the central district of Manhattan will become a center of activity and traffic such as no city in the world can equal. The effect which these changes will have upon real estate in that vicinity, we leave our readers to imagine.

THE decision of the Borough President of Manhattan, Mr. Ahearn, to repave Broadway from Vesey street to the Battery with wooden pavements is to be commended. Such a pavement will cost more than asphalt, but this section of Broadway is entitled to the best pavement which can be laid, and there can be no doubt that wooden blocks constitute, from the point of view of the people who use it, a better pavement than asphalt. It is true that the wooden pavements which have been laid in New York heretofore have proved to be the reverse of durable; but there is no reason why wooden blocks, provided they are properly laid, should not be as durable in New York as they are in London. It is up to the Borough President to see that the new pavement is properly laid and that the city obtains its worth of the very large price which will be paid. It is unfortunate that wooden block pavements are so expensive, because they possess a combination of qualities which is extremely desirable in the New York climate. Asphalt is as smooth and is, if proprely taken care of, even more desirable; but its use has grave disadvantages in a city which enjoys a winter climate similar to that of New York. Every winter we are afflicted with storms which turn an asphalt pavement into sheets of slippery ice, and under such conditions the difficulties which the drivers of cabs, wagons and trucks have in preventing their horses from falling are almost insuperable. Wooden pavements are less slippery than asphalt under all conditions, but particularly in rainy and icy weather. It does not follow, however, that the city should entirely abandon the use of asphalt for the sake of wood. Even New York could scarcely afford it to use wooden pavements very largely at the price which it costs to lay them. The case of lower Broadway is peculiar because the value of the abutting property. Certain other thoroughfares which are constantly used, but not by heavy trucks, might be similarly paved, but the very considerable use of wooden pavements would be sheer extravagance—until their durability is better established or their cost reduced. Pavements of every kind are so constantly and wantonly torn up in the New York streets, and the resulting ruts and breaks are thereafter so systematically neglected that to lay a more expensive pavement in the beginning would be inexcusable waste. When we learn to take care of our pavements we can afford to spend more money in making them.

THE effects of the exposure of the Equitable Life Assurance Society's past methods of conducting its business are likely to be far-reaching. It looks indeed as if every important branch of the life insurance business would be affected thereby. Just how far the resulting reorganization will go, it is too early to predict, but we should not be at all surprised to find public opinion insisting upon changes which the management of some of the companies will not relish. The agitation that had already been started for the supression of the life insurance companies by the national government will receive additional impetus, and it will in all probability be eventually achieved. The life insurance business is essentially national. The supervision exercised by the New York State Insurance Department is by no means trustworthy; and the distrust with which the West regards any institutions which are particularly identified with Wall Street will lead to an irresistible demand for the national incorporation and regulation of the large companies. Public opinion throughout the country is coming to believe that only in this way can the investment of the enormous assets of these companies be removed from any taint of financial jobbery. The three largest companies control among them between $1,100,000,000 and $1,200,000,000. In another ten or fifteen years these resources will have doubled, and will exercise such a dominant influence upon the market for investment securities that their control will constitute a unique financial opportunity. Under such circumstances it is essential that the securities in which investments may be made should be more carefully defined than heretofore and that there should be no ground for the slightest suspicion of favoritism in making these investments. There will be vigorous opposition to any reorganization which substitutes national for State control, and restricts more narrowly the character of the securities which left insurance companies by way of purchase; but we believe that public opinion outside of New York will persist in demanding these changes, and will be right in so doing.

New Hotel Rules.

REQUIRE NO CHANGE IN ARCHITECTURAL SPECIFICATIONS FROM EXISTING REGULATIONS.

Architects are inquiring about the building provisions in the new Ambler hotel laws, desiring to learn if the legal modifications will have any effect on future plans for hotels in this city. The amendments do not work, it may be answered, any great change from the old law, so far as architectural plans are concerned, but rather require a stricter conformity to the old law in this respect.

Upon receiving an application for a liquor-tax certificate, the deputy commissioner of excise is required to serve upon the Superintendent of Buildings a notice stating that an application has been made for permission to carry on a hotel at the designated place, and the superintendent is to cause an inspection of the premises to be made to see if they comply with the laws, ordinances, rules and regulations of the locality relating to the fireproof construction of hotels, however defined.

If it shall appear from his report that the declared hotel building has not been continuously occupied as a hotel for a period of five years prior to 1896, does not comply with the provisions of the laws, ordinances, rules and regulations of the State and locality relating to the fireproof construction of hotels in force in the year 1892, erected after that date, a certificate shall not be issued, the application shall not be granted. In other words, if the hotel was built in violation of the local building laws, as they were in force at the time of its construction, a certificate is to be refused. This is the principal amendment to the law, so far as the Building Department is concerned. It provides, as will be observed, for a special inspection of every hotel building to see that it conforms with the fire, health and building laws.

The liquor tax law of the State requires that such buildings "shall contain at least ten [the local law says fifteen, which holds good] bedrooms above the basement, exclusive of those occupied by the family and servants, each room properly furnished to accommodate lodgers, and separated by partitions at least three inches thick, extending from floor to ceiling, with independent access to each room by a door opening into a hallway, each room having a window or windows, with not less than eight square feet of surface, opening upon a street or open court, light-shaft or open air, and each having at least eighty square feet of floor area and at least six hundred cubic feet of space therein; a dining room with at least three hundred square feet of floor area, which shall not be a part of the bar-room, with tables, and having suitable table furniture and accommodations for at least twenty guests therein at one and the same time, and a kitchen and conveniences for cooking therein sufficient to provide bona fide meals at one and the same time for twenty guests." Thus, the size of bedrooms is not changed.

Subscribers desiring to have the "Record and Guide" sent to their summer address will confer a great favor by always giving their old address as well as the new address in sending in their instructions to the office of publication.

The House of Mr. Jacob H. Schiff.

The house of Mr. Jacob H. Schiff, one of the most important rooms of which is reproduced herewith, speaks for itself. Its interior is the work of a leading firm of interior decorators in New York City; and it has been finished according to the ideas which are recognized as the regular thing for this class of work. It may, indeed, be regarded as an excellent type of the house which is designed and furnished for a man of great wealth. Its prevailing character is that of an impersonal and stately magnificence; and an effect of this kind is not without its fitness, because the banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., with which Mr. Schiff is connected, has already reached in the mind of the public the position of a great institution. The proprietor of this house, following the example of other rich men, has wished to have the interior of his dwelling a faithful reproduction of one or more of the authentic historic styles—a task which the decorator was well qualified to perform. The apartments are all examples of "period" design and furnishing; and the occupants of the house have loyally supported the designer by not intruding on the spectacle incongruous decorations and conveniences.

The drawing-room, for instance, is a complete realization of this point of view in interior decoration. It is a room belonging almost exclusively to the Louis XV. period, both in the design of the walls and in the ch aracter of the furnishing. The walls are, of course, paneled to the ceiling, and are finished a rich ivory white. The gold of the raised decorations is subdued to a dull tone, and thereby loses the merely gaudy effect, so often characteristic of gilt decorations. The draperies of silk velour are embroidered in gold and show rose crimson color as the carpet, which is in several tones. The furniture is upholstered partly in this velour, and partly in tapestry. The large panels on the walls are filled with silk tapestries surrounded by a rose-crimson border. These tapestries, it is interesting to note, are of American make. They were wrought at Williamsbridge, New York, from designs after the style of Boucher, specially prepared for this room. The only object in the apartment which jars the spectator's sense of historical propriety is the piano, which should also have been specially designed for the period.

—The annual repairs to the public schools come during July and August. The improvements this summer have been divided into two classes by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment —repairs and betterments. The former includes merely emergency repairs, while the latter covers all repairs and additions to buildings which will be of permanent value. New flooring, metal ceilings, painting, roofing and retreading staircases come under the head of emergency repairs. The erection of fire-proof staircases of iron and stone within brick walls is included under betterments.

The Fartherest Up.

A RECENT rumor of a gigantic tower as the finishing and incomparable stroke for a grand edifice on Madison Square —which, alas, cannot be verified,—may have prepared the public for another announcement of the same nature. This is one that can be made with more positiveness. For several years there has been an expectation that Mr. Hearst would eventually do something extraordinary with his extremely prominent site on Columbus Circle, though the adaptation which he made of the existing building to current needs nearly extinguished the hope that the operation would be an early one.

It was stated this week in the office of Messrs. Kirby, Petit & Green, 35 and 37 West 31st st (formerly 21 West 34th st),that they are hastening work on the plans for the new Journal Building, that the actual work of construction will begin upon Mr. Hearst's return from Europe in August, and that the building is to be 535 FEET IN HEIGHT.

This will be the record for New York, the highest tiptopmost pinnacle, the nearest to Heaven; where Mr. Hearst can stand and with a feather plucked from a pinion of a screaming American eagle, dipped in the vivid red ink with which Journal extras are printed, write against the face of the eternal sky in ineffaceable letters—. Well, here we shall pause and leave it to Mr. Hearst himself to compose the halleluia, but in the meantime offering a prize to the wise person who will guess nearest what it will be.

Particulars of the building are not further authorized at this time, but a structure notable and beautiful, as well as of unrivaled height, may be confidently expected.

Another Bridge Across the Hudson.

A bridge across the Hudson River at Fort Montgomery is an ultimate certainty. The growth of railroad necessities in and near New York combine with natural conditions at the Fort to proclaim this prophecy as true. When a bridge will be thrown over the stream is not so certain. It may possibly be postponed for ten years, but the indications favor the immediate future, and also point to the New York Central Railroad interests as the builders. The Record and Guids was the first metropolitan newspaper to mention this probability as an immediate likelihood, which it did some weeks ago; and it now hears that an architectural and engineering plan for the bridge is actually in existence in the office of the New York Central Company. Presumably this company has bought out the rights and interests of the one which undertook about ten years ago to build an independent bridge and failed for lack of means. The corporation best qualified to take up the task has apparently now done so. Reports of land purchases have been heard in the vicinity from time to time, and surveying parties have been seen afield. The New York Central Company has railroads on both banks of the river, but no bridge across, while the New Haven has one at Poughkeepsie, and the Pennsylvania will have tunnels at New York. At a strategical point in Orange County called "Maybrook," which is some miles back of Ft. Montgomery, the New York and New Haven is building one of the most important railroad "exchanges," or switch yards, east of Buffalo. Miles of track are being laid, scores of houses are building for employees, and a large town is rising out of the meadows where the trotter Dexter once grazed. To this "exchange" the Erie, the Ontario and Western and the Lackawanna are bringing Western and local freight intended for New England, whence it is taken by the New Haven (which has its own line from Maybrook) to the Poughkeepsie Bridge, and thence to Danbury, Waterbury and Hartford.

By a new arrangement only consummated last week, on and after September 1, 1905, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad will deliver 300 cars of freight per day to the N. Y., N. H. & H. at Maybrook, the most of which will be perishable. It will be delivered to the Lehigh & Hudson at Andover, and this road will bring it to Maybrook. This freight now is delivered to the New Haven road at Harlem by float. In this connection is a report that on July 1st the New Haven road will take full control of the N. Y., Ontario & Western, which means for the New Haven a through all-rail route from Boston to Buffalo, via the Poughkeepsie Bridge. Week before last the yard at Maybrook handled 6,524 cars, and the number is likely soon to reach 10,000 a week.

In a word, the trans-Hudson business is slipping through the New York Central's fingers, and a bridge at Ft. Montgomery is inevitable—the only counter stroke the Central can make against the New Haven's bridge and the Pennsylvania's tunnels. The railroad ferry arrangements in New York harbor, by the testimony of all authorities, have become antiquated and inadequate. The future demands that railroad trains shall pass the river without interruption, and either by subaqueous tunnels or by viaducts.

Concurrently with the building of a bridge at Fort Montgomery, the Central is expected to construct connecting lines on the east and west shores, tapping all important lines, making White Plains an important railroad centre, and giving the Bronx, Westchester County and the Sound Shore a direct rail route across the Hudson.

The Use of Streets.

Through an act of the Legislature, an important and radical change in the functions and powers of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has been made, in regard to the granting of franchises for the use of the streets, the powers which heretofore have been lodged with the Board of Aldermen in this regard, having now been transferred to and conferred upon this Board. This change in procedure has strongly commended itself to the City Club, which was an earnest advocate, both in the Legislature and before the Governor of the legislative measures which have accomplished this result.

Several corporations have already made applications to the Board for various franchises, notably the Union Railway Company, for some 22 new franchises or extensions of existing franchises in the Borough of the Bronx, the Portchester Railway Company, the Atlantic Telephone Co., and other corporations.

At yesterday's meeting of the Board, when that body took up for the first time the responsibility for granting all future franchises, a letter from Mr. Lawrence Veiller, the City Club's secretary, was received, in which some general propositions for the board's consideration were presented. Speaking for the City Club, he asked that the board establish the following general conditions and terms upon which such franchises shall be granted:

1. That no new franchise shall be granted to street railway companies, unless reasonable and practicable provision for transfer facilities are agreed to.

2. That no franchise shall be granted which involves the construction or operation of overhead trolley lines in any part of the Borough of Manhattan.

3. That the method of determining the compensation to the city for all new franchises shall be upon a basis of a percentage of the gross receipts and that the system of an annual payment based upon the number of cars running over a cehtain portion of a route be abandoned as a future method of determining compensation to the city.

4. That all new franchises contain a clause to the effect that, upon the failure of the holder of the franchise to comply with its provisions, the franchise shall be voidable at the option of the city. It is further suggested (if there are no legal obstacles to the incorporation of such a provision in the term of a franchise) that provision be made to the effect that, upon the failure of the appropriate authorities to take action to compel compliance wih the terms, provisions or conditions of such franchise, after having been petitioned so to do, any taxpayer, with leave of the court, may bring an action to compel such compliance.

"There are," said Mr. Veiller, "undoubtedly other principles governing the granting of franchises which should have consideration, but many of these have already been adopted by the local authorities in granting recent street railway franchises (notably in the case of the franchise of the New York City Interborough Railway Company, granted in 1903), and it does not seem necessary, therefore, to allude to them here. It is sincerely hoped that the matters here presented may appeal to your honorable Board as worthy of careful consideration, and that they, or similar fundamental principles governing the granting of future franchises may be adopted."

Solving A Mystery.

The public can guess a little nearer now who the new owner of No. 1 Wall st is. If it isn't the American Tobacco Company, then it is a very near relation. "No. 1 Wall Street" was incorporated in Albany on Tuesday with a capital of $300,000. The directors of the company are: F. J. Wade and B. E. Anderson, of St. Louis, Mo., and C. E. Halliwell, of New York, who will "manage" real estate at No. 1 Wall st, recently bought by them. The property is the famous Silliman plot, 29.10x39.10x32x39.8, on the southeast corner of Broadway and Wall st, on which stands an old 4-sty brick building. Mr. C. E. Halliwell, who is a prominent member of the American Tobacco Co., 111 Fifth av, refuses any information regarding the plans of the newly-formed company.

The American Tobacco Company is so constituted as to be able to use to advantage either the present building or a better one on the same site. The store floor is all it needs for its own business, and the upper floors of a new building could be rented to good purpose, and probably an income could be so derived that would greatly reduce its own rental equivalent from the present figures.

—In addition to the large volume of building operations already in progress in Manhattan and the Bronx, which are mostly for flats and tenements, there are many new plans in course of completion, soon to be filed with the Department of Buildings, for approximately two hundred and fifty similar buildings, to cost in the millions. Also, there are an unusual number of alteration plans under way: the departments are almost overborne by the rush along this line, and the outlook is for a steady increase in this class of work throughout the entire summer.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Building Operations.

Changes in Mr. Rogers' Residence.

78TH ST.—E. N. Whitecomb & Co., Boston, Mass., has obtained the contract for alterations to the 4-sty dwelling 3 East 78th st for H. H. Rogers, of 26 Broadway. Charles Brigham, 100 Falmouth st, Boston, Mass., is the architect.

A Row of Nine.

SOUTHERN BOULEVARD.—Moore & Landsiedel, 148th st and Third av, are drawing plans for nine 6-sty brick flats, 50x94 each, to be built on the west side of Southern Boulevard, 100 ft south of Avenue St. John, Bronx, for William Wainwright, of 1042 Macy pl, at a total cost of $540,000.

Improvements to Mr. Berwind's Residence.

64TH ST.—John T. Brady & Co., 4-6 East 42d st, have obtained the general contract for $10,000 worth of improvements to the 5-sty residence, 2 East 64th st, for E. J. Berwind, on premises, from plans by Horace Trumbauer, 1408 Land Title Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

Ironwork Estimates Asked.

BROADWAY.—William Kleeman & Co., 619 to 625 West 54th st, are asking for estimates on all ornamental iron work for John Wanamaker's new 14-sty store on Broadway, between 8th and 9th sts. Ernest Zimmerman, of the company, is in charge. The same company holds the contract for all the store fixtures and interior woodwork and trim.

Plans for a Club House.

44TH ST.—Palmer & Hornbostel, 63 William st, are drawing plans for an 8-sty club house, 35x100, to be built in 44th st, near Broadway, for the Alpha Delta Phi Club, of 33 West 33d st, of which F. L. Stetson is president. It will, of course, be a fireproof structure, with skeleton steel frame, and exteriors of brick, stone and terra cotta. Heating and ventilating systems, boilers, motors, etc.

Bids for Engineering Building.

The contract for the Engineering Clubhouse to be erected in West 39th st has not yet been given out. All bids for its construction were considered too high, and the bidders have been asked to re-figure their estimates. The original plans call for a 15-sty structure with ground dimensions of 115x88.9. The exteriors are to be of limestone with terra cotta trim and a base of granite. Herbert D. Hale, of 96 William st, the architect, will not revise his plans unless the newly computed figures also prove excessive.

Thompson-Starrett Co. will Build the U. S. Express Building.

TRINITY PL.—The Thompson-Starrett Co., 49 Wall st, this week obtained the general contract to erect the new 23-sty office building for the United States Express Co. at 56 to 66 Trinity pl, through to 91 to 101 Greenwich st, and 8 to 12 Rector st. The plot measures 133.9 in Greenwich st, 118.7 in Rector st, 142 in Trinity pl and 139.10 along its southern line, covering an area of about 17,800 sq. ft. The exterior will be of brick with stone and terra cotta trim. It will cost in the neighborhood of $1,500,000. Clinton & Russell, 32 Nassau st, are the architects.

Quarter of a Million Operation in the Bronx.

Maximilian Zipkes, architect, of 147 Fourth av, is preparing plans and specifications for 5-sty and basement buildings to be erected on Cauldwell av, Bronx, for Messrs. Sider & Stolar, at a cost of $250,000. The buildings will be finished in the best style, including steam, hardwood trim, inlaid floors, electric light and many other modern improvements. The fronts will be of limestone, terra cotta and Harvard brick. Wrought iron ornamental doors, gates and railings. Plans will be ready for figures on or about July 15th. The plot has a frontage of 200 ft, and is 100 ft deep.

Contract for Workmen's Club House.

Long Island.

Chas. F. Noyes has sold for the Eldredge estate a plot cosisting of a block front of 206 ft. on the south side of Ocean av, running from Meredith to Ammerman av, at Arverne, L. I., including eight lots on Meredith av and five lots on Ammerman av and the Eldredge home.

The company's large manufacturing extension, being built by Contractor Ashfield, of Brooklyn, promises to be completed by July 10, and when finished will almost double the present floor area of the concern.

PATCHOGUE, L. I.—Patchogue is enjoying the most prosperous season it has known in the building line. John J. Roe, who bought the Harriet Hartrift property, corner of Suydam and Grove sts, has sold the same to August Woerner, of Brooklyn. James Van Allen, of New York, has bought the three-acre farm belonging to John J. Roe, at Edwardsville. Mr. Roe is opening up a number of new streets on the Edwardsville property, and is also planning to erect a number of cottages there. The property at the corner of Ocean av and Terry st, opposite the Methodist Church, has been sold by Edwin Johanknecht to E. C. —Fifth avenue's "Busy Corner" seems to be at 34th st, on the site of the proposed Altman store. The ground has been cleared of all of the old buildings, except the Knoedler art gallery on the corner itself and Mrs. Osborn's establishment two doors north, and excavating continues day and night. There is but little rock here, and this is being drilled for blasting and speedy removal. The site will be enclosed by a high board fence during the construction of the building, and this is already partly put up and a foot bridge along 35th st constructed. The masonry work will be done by Marc Eidlitz & Son, the general contractors; while Post & McCord will supply the structural steel, the actual fabricating to be done by the American Bridge Co. No other contracts have been issued, though figures are all in for the stone work. The building will have a base of granite with a superstructure of French limestone. It is to be eight stories in height, and is estimated to cost $1,500,000.

BUILDING NOTES

On Wednesday, June 28th, the Rose Brick Company molded 1,100,000 common brick, at the company's yards at Roseton, on the Hudson River, as reported by Secretary Robert T. Boyd. This is the record for a day's work in this line of trade.

The contract for erecting Branch No. 35, New York Public Library (Carnegie Endowment), in the north side of 145th st, 100 ft west of Amsterdam av, has not yet been given out. The plans of McKim, Mead & White, 160 Fifth av, call for a 3-sty and attic building, 60x80, to cost about $90,000.

Daniel J. O'Brien, formerly of the firm of Anderson & O'Brien, is now located at 347 West 48th st, near 9th av. Mr. O'Brien manufactures metallic skylights and applies tin roofing on all classes of buildings. Designs and estimates will be cheerfully furnished by him to those requiring this class of work.

On Wednesday there was recorded a building loan contract for $2,000,000 from the Cedar St Co. to the Plaza Operating Co., a subsidiary company of the U. S. Realty and Improvement Co., with which to erect the new Plaza Hotel. Henry J. Hardenbergh, No. 1 West 34th st, it will be recalled, is engaged upon the plans for this new structure, which will be erected by the Geo. A. Fuller Co.

The building at No. 25 and 27 West 42d st, which is being remodeled, met with a mishap Thursday night. Part of the floors on the fourth and fifth stories in the rear fell with a crash through a large skylight on the second floor. The interior had been torn out, the front taken down to make way for a new marble front and another story was to have been added. The property is owned by Walter Salamon.

The Thompson-Starrett Co., 49 Wall st, has issued to F. H. Chapman, contractor, the contract for excavating the site of the McCreery store in 34th st, through to 35th st, 150 ft west of Fifth av. The old buildings on the site are now being demolished. No other contracts have been given out. Messrs. Hale & Rogers, 92 William st, are the architects. The building is to be 150 ft high, the first story being 20 ft in the clear. The material of the exteriors has not been decided upon.

A strike was ordered on the Blackwell's Island Bridge this week by Frank Buchanan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, who came from Harrisburg for the purpose. A strike is in progress at the plant of the Pennsylvania Steel Co. in Harrisburg, and it is reported that strikes against the company will be ordered in New Haven, Washington and Kansas City in addition to that on the Blackwell's Island Bridge, the contract for which is held by the Pennsylvania Steel Co. The demand of the Harrisburg men is for a nine-hour day and 45 cents an hour.

The Newest Banking Room.

It is the interior of the National Park Bank which is perhaps best calculated both to attract attention from those who have the opportunity of seeing it, and to repay that attention. The single banking-room of which it consists, is worth all the trouble and expense that have been incurred to obtain it. The domed skylight which marks the "crossing," and the coffered tunnel vaults that diverge from it denote an arrangement and an effect which suggest a Renaissance church rather than a modern bank. Equally suggestive in the same direction are the sumptuous fittings of bronze and marble which are integral parts of the strictly architectural effect. Upon the marble the architect is particularly to be congratulated, not only on account of its color, but because its striation is so broad and bold as distinctly to promote the scale of his interior. In spite of the reminiscence it affords, however, this work is of an unmistakable modernity. The ironwork of the arches, latticed on the soffit and of a perforated web on the face, is one of two few examples of what an artist may do with modern engineering construction, and harks no farther back than the Tour Eiffel and the Galerie des Machines. The treatment of the central vault is equally admirable and effective in the constructive features of the arches and the rings of the dome, and in the decoration of the pendentives. So much of its effectiveness comes from the evidence it bears of being "the real thing" that it is partly to be expected as well as wholly to be hoped that it may have its influence upon other designers who have contented themselves, inattaining similar forms, with doing the sham thing. It is much to be wished that the architect had seen his way to the same reality in the supports as in the thing supported. The plastered piers are not congruous with the avowed metal work they carry. One would not ask for the sumptuous marble of the counters. Plain ashlar, or failing that, even an honest brickwork would have carried out the design with more life and spirit than can be attained by the employment of a mere envelope.

But it is most unjust to quarrel because we cannot have everything when we have so much more than we could reasonably have expected. We have even effective mural decoration. Painting was indeed very strongly "indicated" by the expanses of lunette that accrued from the domical treatment of the ceiling. The indication has been followed in one by Mr. Herter's "Agriculture" and is to be followed in the others by corresponding representations of "Commerce" and "Industry." The banking room of the Park Bank is a noble apartment, much in advance of anything for the same purpose we have hitherto had to show, and lovers of art have to thank the directors of the institution, as well as their architect, for a work so important, so effective, and in many respects so exemplary.

Y. M. C. A. Real Estate Class.

The West Side Y. M. C. A. will reopen its classes in real estate law and practice for the winter season on October 10. A booklet giving the programme for the coming season is issued to-day, and indicates that the classes will be quite as attractive as last year, with a number of new features that should make the second season even more successful than the first. The work this year will be divided into three courses, as follows:

Course I., Real Estate Problems—A course of lectures by men prominent in the real estate business on subjects of vital interest to real estate men. Each lecturer is a specialist in his particular line of work.

Course II., Real Estate Law—A series of lectures by Mr. Henry F. Miller on real estate law. Mr. Miller's broad experience as a real estate lawyer qualifies him for this work.

Course III., Office Practice—A class for the detailed study of real estate office methods.

Among the lectures to be delivered this year are the following: "The Development of Land Tenures," Lawson Purdy; "Architecture and Building of Apartment and Tenement Houses," Thos. P. Neville; "Personal Experiences," Francis E. Ward; "How to Make Commissions," Minturn Post Collins; "Title Insurance," Walter Lindner; "Fire Insurance," R. O. Haubold; "Appraisals," John M. Thompson; "Expert Testimony," Charles Griffith Moses; "The Broker and Auctioneer," Robert E. Simon; "Management of Downtown Buildings," E. A. Tredwell; "Water Front Property," McDougall Hawkes; "Exchanging of Real Estate," John R. Foley; "Real Estate News and Advertising," Henry Harmon Neill; "The Bronx," J. Clarence Davies; "Suburban Property and Its Development," Milton S. Kistler; "Taxation of Real Property," David Rumsey; "Estates and Interests Arising from Marriage," Charles L. Burr.

Personal.

James W. Wilson, for thirty-two years a partner in the architectural firm of Thom & Wilson, died at his residence, 156 West 106th st, after a lingering illness on Monday, June 26, aged 59. He leaves a widow and five sons and daughters. His eldest son, Walter, will take his place in the firm, which will be continued under the same title. Mr. Wilson was a veteran of the 71st Regiment, a member of the Mechanics & Traders' Society and well known in his profession.

For the New Post Office Site.

Arrangements are being made to pay the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. $1,700,000 for the site of the new general post office in New York at 8th av, between 31st and 33d sts. The price has been agreed upon by Postmaster General Cortelyou, Attorney General Moody and Secretary Shaw acting for the government and President Cassatt for the railroad company. Officials of the Department of Justice are now at work preparing the deed for the transfer of the property, but several important details are yet to be decided. According to the law authorizing the purchase of the site, the railroad will occupy the ground beneath the surface for a station, while the post office will be on the surface. The next Congress will be asked to appropriate $4,000,000 for the structure.

Real Estate Activity.

We have had occasion to point out several times the immense increase that has occurred in the number of papers filed in the Register's Office, and, in consequence, the greater amount of work that has devolved upon the Register's Office and upon the Record and Guide.

Register Ronner is entirely right in protesting against the ignorant and picayune policy of the authorities in granting him recently such an illiberal addition of force to his present staff. More men are needed if work at the Register's Office is to be done properly without unduly taxing an already hard working force of men.

During the past week 5,035 papers have been filed at the Register's Office. Ordinarily the average is about 300 a day. No inconsiderable part of this increase is, of course, due to the rush to file mortgages in anticipation of the new law, but the average of the permanent filing is also very much higher than formerly. From the work entailed by this increase there has been a very severe tax upon the Register's Office, upon the title companies and upon the Record & Guide. The real estate public should recognize these facts and support Register Ronner in his just demands, and also all others who serve them in handling the real estate records.

The first of May, ordinarily the biggest day of the year, has been made to seem dull by comparison with the work that has poured in every day this week, exceeding all records. On the first day of May, this year, a total of 801 papers were filed for record, which was considered remarkable. But consider the number filed this week, as detailed below:

| | Conveyances. | Mortgages. | Assignments of mortgages. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Monday | 199 | 354 | 50 | 606 |
| Tuesday | 261 | 414 | 109 | 826 |
| Wednesday | 322 | 680 | 77 | 1,081 |
| Thursday | 493 | 1,108 | 91 | 1,716 |
| Friday | ..... | ..... | exceeding 3,000 | (estimated). |

Another View of the Suburban Movement.

"I have gone over the ground very carefully regarding the suburban movement," said John H. Gelhardt, Jr., of 1090 Fulton st, Brooklyn, "and at the present time the demand for suburban property, both in one and two-family houses for sale or rent, if for sale on easy terms, is far larger than the supply.

"The question is being asked by both speculators and home seekers, whether the suburban movement will have a tendency to decrease the values of the older sections of the city. Both the older section and the suburban have rapidly increased in value during the past year, and I think that without doubt the older section of the city has had its share of the increase.

"I do not think that the suburban movement can continue, as at the present time the railroad facilities are so poor that it necessitates waiting from ten to twenty minutes to secure a car to reach the outskirts. Probably an increase in railroad facilities and better protection by the city in the way of fire and police patrol, would make the suburbs a permanent section for a large number of people.

"I find that a fair average of the people who either rent or buy in the suburbs, after residing there three years are desirous of returning to the older section of the city. It is my belief that it is only a question of a few years before there will be a large demand for property in the older sections, as I think by that time the buying public will be very well educated to the fact that suburban property looks well and is very attractive to the eye, but is not such as they would desire to hold for any number of years."

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follews: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

June 23, 24, 26, 27, 28, 29.

THE bullish speculators are evidently determined to anticipate immediately any rise in prices warranted by the improved conditions which may take place during the summer, and it is entirely possible that if they push this idea too hard they may delay rather than expedite the prevalence of a higher level of prices. The market has already done pretty well and has recovered more than half of its losses during the spring break, and before going much further it would be just as well to wait a few weeks and ascertain just what it can count upon in the way of crops and increased dividends. The sharp rise in commodity values which has been taking place recently does not constitute a very good basis for a bullish speculation in stocks, and it is worth considering whether there is sufficient loanable capital available for speculative purposes to justify any considerable campaign in favor of higher prices. General business is very active all over the country, and large amounts of money here and elsewhere are being tied up in building operations. The adverse conditions do not forbid a certain rise in prices throughout the summer, but if the rise becomes too sharp and costs too much in the way of borrowed money, they will very soon make themselves felt.

IT WAS fitting that the activity of the most active season ever witnessed in the New York real estate market should culminate in an explosion of business wholly unprecedented in its amount and character. The explosion was produced of course by the fact that the new mortgage tax became collectable on all mortgages recorded on July 1st or thereafter, but it could never have made as much noise and bother as it did were it not that an enormous number of building projects were under consideration and were hastened by the desire to avoid the tax. The consequence was that whereas in 1904 some 336 mortgages were recorded in the six days between June 24th and June 30th, the corresponding figures for the current year, including, however, only five days, were 1,156. If the last two days of the month had been added to the foregoing, it would have been more than trebled. That is, fully 4,000 mortgages were recorded during the last week of June, 1905, against only a few hundred in the corresponding week of 1904. Just about two-thirds of the amount of money which was loaned by these 4,000 papers carried interest at six per cent. and will be used for building operations. The building loan contracts alone recorded on these days called for the lending of about $30,000,000, and included papers covering four structures which will be as much as twenty stories high, viz.: the new Boreel Building, the new Plaza Hotel, the building of the United States Express Co. and the West St. Building. It has assuredly been a year of great opportunities for the corporations and individuals whose business it is to loan money on real estate. In Manhattan, for instance, the number of conveyances recorded has increased about 35 per cent., but the number of mortgages recorded has increased by 55 per cent. Over twice as much money has been loaned on Manhattan real estate during the first six months of 1905 than during the first six months of 1904; a good deal over twice as much has been loaned on Brooklyn property, and as for the Bronx, the operations in that borough in 1905 have required three times as much borrowed money as they did in 1904. By way of comparison, it is interesting to note that while in Manhattan and the Bronx between five-eighths and two-thirds of the money was loaned at six per cent., in Brooklyn the popular percentage was five per cent. In that borough very little is loaned at less than five per cent., but about two thirds is loaned at five per cent and almost the whole of the remaining third at six per cent.

OF COURSE the storm of business transacted during the past few weeks is bound to be succeeded by a calm. The speculative transactions which would under ordinary circumstances be distributed throughout the entire summer were consummated during the last two weeks of June; and the dullness seasonable during the summer time, will be during July and August more than usually conspicuous. Furthermore, the mortgage tax will in the beginning undoubtedly serve to decrease business. Under existing conditions we imagine that this effect will not be permanent. It is probable that in the fall there will be a revival of activity, and that this activity will not be very much diminished by the imposition of the tax. An increasing carrying charge of a few million dollars a year is not sufficient to check speculative real estate and building operations during a period in which as many excellent opportunities for profit exist as there are at present. In a few months operators who need money will be seeking it as actively as ever, and will not be deterred by the fact that they must pay one-half of one per cent. more for it. The tax will become a serious burden only when the existing spell of real estate activity is over, and not until then will it be possible to trace the permanent effect of the tax. Then the margin of profit is so small that the tax becomes a matter for calculation, and when, consequently, borrowing is diminished because of it, then the money-lenders may have to assume some of the burden of the tax and reduce a little the rates of interest. For the present, however, the outlook is that we shall have a dull summer in real estate, and an active one in building, succeeded by a revival of real estate business in the fall. There are no signs as yet that the pace which has been set in 1905 will not be continued through 1906.

AN exceedingly interesting development in New York real estate is the tendency in the direction of converting 72d st between Broadway and Columbus ave into a business street. It has never seemed probable that the broad streets between 59th and 110th sts would become important business streets like 14th, 23d and 34th sts, because Central Park prevents cross-town traffic and diminshes the area available for habitation, and consequently the local population. It is improbable indeed that the City of New York will permanently put up with the inconvenience resulting from the intrusion of an irregular park into a regular street system, but it will be many years before common sense has its way, and the plan of Central Park is altered so as to promote the convenience of the neighboring inhabitants. In the meantime there is plenty of room on the avenues for the business which must necessarily be transacted east and west of the park. These avenues are still frequently devoid of stores, and they contain plenty of space for any additional offices or shops which may be needed. Nevertheless, 72d st between Columbus ave and Broadway may well constitute an exception to this rule. Most of the important stores now existing on the West Side are concentrated in the neighborhood of 72d st and Columbus ave, and it will be natural for the necessary increase in the number of these shops to spread in the direction of Broadway. The square at 72d st and Broadway is becoming one of the most important in the city, and is likely to become still more important. It has the advantage of a subway express station, of the location in the vicinity of many huge apartment houses and apartment hotels, and consequently of a great and growing density of population. Moreover, these inhabitants are all comparatively well-to-do, or else they could not afford to pay the rents necessitated by the high price of neighboring real estate. It will be extremely interesting to observe how far the development of a local business centre will continue. Just at present the tendency is all in the direction of business concentration because the subway enables people to move about more freely, but it is possible that the peculiar conditions in the vicinity of 72d st and Broadway may tempt important 5th ave storekeepers to establish branches thereabouts.

WHETHER Mr. John D. Rockefeller's money is tainted or not, that gentleman certainly succeeds in spending it on other people with unusually good judgment. There is not a gift of money which he has made for a public purpose which has not been dictated by common sense and exact knowledge as to the real needs of the American educational system. Every institution which he has founded or encouraged has a most important and necessary function to perform. It was of the utmost importance, for instance, that the Middle West should have a great university, situated in its largest city, divorced from any dependence on the State and endowed with abundant resources; and that the University of Chicago has already obtained a fair start is due to Mr. Rockefeller more than to any other single man. The recent foundation of a laboratory for medical research in New York was also a peculiarly excellent benefaction, while the gift just announced of $10,000,000, the income of which will be given by the General Education Board to the non-sectarian colleges most in need of it, is as admirable for the idea behind it as it is for the way in which the idea is carried out. Mr. Rockefeller gives chiefly to the higher education, and it is in this way that his money can be spent with a maximum of public good. The mere encouragement of reading, upon which Mr. Carnegie has spent so many millions, is not anything like as necessary. Americans read enough or too much at the present time, but their reading is confined chiefly to newspapers, periodicals and popular novels. What they need more than anything else is the intellectual stimulus to read better books, and it is a stimulus of this kind which Mr. Rockefeller's benefactions help to spread. He acts like a man who has thought out the whole matter carefully, whereas Mr. Carnegie gives the impression of a man who is influenced not only by good ideas, but by fads. Certain of his benefactions deserve, indeed, nothing but the warmest commendation. The assistance he has rendered to technical education, his endowment of special research and his pension fund for college professors are all wisely considered and meet important needs. On the other hand, he assuredly overdoes the library business and his fund for bestowing medals and pecuniary assistance on heroes is by way of being absurd. Heroism is one of those things for which there is no possible reward, and its systematic endowment is as distressing as would be an attempt to endow genius or any other essentially rare and unpremeditated ebullition of the higher human nature. Mr. Carnegie, that is, gives the impression of being a man whose preoccupation with his profession as human benefactor sometimes betrays his judgment, whereas Mr. Rockefeller's judgment is as sound in giving money away as it has been in making money.

The Restriction of Immigration.

IT IS becoming evident that among the subjects which will be forced upon the attention of our national legislators at the coming meeting of Congress is that of restricting immigration. Over a million immigrants are now entering the ports of the United States every year, and while these figures will not be indefinitely maintained, yet it is probable that they will not be appreciably diminished for some time. Not only will the present demand for labor in this country continue for another year or more, but the disturbed political conditions in Russia and Austria will provoke emigration from those countries. Such a large proportion of our current immigration consists of Polish and Russian Jews, and of Slavs from the Eastern Provinces of Austria, that any political or economic causes which makes life harder in those countries will tempt the poorer people to go away—even if their prospects of earning a good living in the new country are no better than they should be. It is generally considered that this class of immigration is less desirable than any which has preceded it in equal numbers. It might be easy enough for a country so large and populous as the United States to assimilate even a million immigrants a year, provided the new comers were properly distributed, but as a matter of fact the great majority of them flock to the congested portions of a few large cities, and form communities of their own, which resist the impact of American social conditions and ideas. The average immigrant seeks the society of his relatives and friends who have already come to this country, so that when he arrives he settles not where he is most wanted, but where there are already too many of his kind. The efforts which are being made to distribute the Italians throughout the South (where they are most needed) and the Jews into small manufacturing and agricultural communities are wholly inadequate. A few thousand are distributed, while a few hundred thousand are introduced. The situation has already attracted the attention of the President, and will receive a thorough discussion in his message, while different members of Congress are preparing a number of bills, proposing various kinds of restrictions.

The Record and Guide doubts the wisdom of any legislation, which proposes sweeping restrictions. Such restrictions would either not be effective at all or else would be effective in an undesirable way. We doubt very much, for instance, the wisdom of imposing an educational qualification upon aliens, who propose to live in the United States. That many of our immigrants are ignorant is their misfortune, rather than their fault, and a such qualification would reject as much good material as it would bad. Moreover, the country needs unskilled as well as skilled labor; and instead of keeping out thousands of people, whose ignorance is not their own fault, it should rather adopt more effective measures to educate the new comers after their arrival. Another sweeping restriction that is advocated by the President, is the imposition of an import duty of $25 on all adult immigrants. Here again we fail to see that the proposed restriction would introduce a desirable and effective principle of discrimination. Such a duty would doubtless keep out a few indigent people, who were poor without being paupers; but its effect upon the whole would be merely to diminish the resources of the majority of immigrants at a time when they most need what little money they have. It would tend, consequently, to limit still further that freedom of movement on their arrival and to tie them still more tightly to the friends and relatives in this country who could render them assistance. We are convinced that such restrictions as these would work much more harm than good.

The Record and Guide has not as yet been convinced that any restriction imposed upon immigration with the object merely of reducing its numbers constitutes a wise national policy. Unquestionably there are evils connected with the existing system, and these evils demand prompt and intelligent action, but there is no evidence that we can include among these evils the fact that our alien immigration is too large to be wholesome. The economic development of the United States still needs this labor, and there are as yet no convincing indications that the children of the immigrants now arriving will not prove to be as good Americans as the children of the German immigrants of twenty-five years ago. The Russian and Polish Jews, who have settled in New York, have certainly proved to be very amenable to the quickening influences of American society—and this in spite of the fact that they are extremely clannish. We believe that they will add in the end a desirable element to the vast and complex life of the metropolis. It is impossible, of course, to discuss this aspect of the matter very convincingly within the limits of a short paragraph; but the principle should be laid down as fundamental that no sweeping restriction should be imposed upon alien immigration until the volume of that immigration is so large that it is lowering the economic standard of American labor.

At the same time the current stream of immigration should not be left entirely without further regulation. It seems to be undoubtedly true that a great many foreign criminals are being systematically exported to the United States; and steps should be taken by the national government to establish a thorough system of inspection in all the foreign countries, from which large numbers of immigrants come. Any man or family desiring to settle in this country must be required to secure papers from an American Consular agent, which will vouch for his respectability. Furthermore, really effective measures should be taken to distribute the new comers better after their arrival. The only agency capable of achieving such a distribution would be the United States government. A Bureau which was furnished with abundant resources, and whose business it would be to collect the necessary information, should be able to direct the stream of immigration into those parts of the country which need it most. Instead, that is, of restricting immigration, the national government should encourage it by giving the newly arrived alien a push in the direction of a good opportunity; and a state such as New York, which receives such a large proportion of the new comers, should co-operate to this end with the Federal Bureau. Congress should direct its energies to giving the immigrant the best possible chance to become a good American citizen, while leaving the volume of immigration to take care of itself.

Piano-Playing Tenants in Apartment Houses.

A case interesting alike to owners of apartment houses and tenants thereof, with relation to the right to impose harmony on the listening but unwilling ear of night, has been recently added to the long list of rights and wrongs passed upon by the courts. It arose on the familiar ground of one tenant of the house annoying another by artistic outpourings of the soul at unreasonable hours; and the objecting tenant demanding eviction by the landlord, who had retained in all leases made the right to terminate the lease of any tenant playing on musical instruments after certain hours.

Adopting the theory so often applied in the courts that where the landlord retains control (as of halls, stairways and the like), he is responsible, it was sought to establish a constructive eviction on his part of the annoyed tenant, by reason of the rules not being enforced and the objectionable tenant silenced or removed, as provided by the terms of the leases with respect to so-offending tenants.

The court, in sustaining the landlord on appeal in an action for rent against the music-hating tenant who claimed constructive eviction, and reversing a municipal court justice whose sympathies seemed to have somewhat warped his judgment, laid down the sensible rule in such cases as this that acts done by one tenant without the authority, consent or connivance of the landlord, cannot be treated by another tenant as an eviction by the landlord.

Building Conditions.

Midsummer finds the metropolitan building arena in a condition which in the main may be described as busy, but there are a few peculiarities of a contrary nature, which remind one somewhat of the experiences of last year. It will be found that while there is a very great amount of building in the aggregate, all through the metropolitan district with the exception of Richmond borough, it is not distributed among the various classes of buildings as evenly as may be generally supposed.

For example, comparatively little structural iron work has yet been started. Plenty is coming on, but the fact that only about a quarter of the men in the structural iron trade are employed indicates that the number of fireproof and business buildings under construction is much less than in average years. Brick flats and tenements and frame dwellings are being erected in great number, as the regularly published records show; but so far as actual construction is concerned, there is a deficiency in the class for the larger forms of construction. Judging from the plans projected, this defect will be remedied in the fall, but thus far this year the employment offering for structural iron erectors has been small in the aggregate compared with what has been current in previous years.

The shortage in the larger forms of building manifests its effects also in those other trades which depend upon the best class of building principally, though it must be said that, taking one thing with another, the year is proving a very satisfactory one for the majority of employers and journeymen. Carpenters and masons are particularly well employed. The amount of frame building has been heavy since the earliest spring days. About every bricklayer in town may be said to be employed. When he gets through with one job there is another job waiting for him, and employers are careful to so handle their men that the idle hours shall be reduced to a minimum. In order to hold bricklayers on urgent jobs and have them do their best, some contractors are paying a slight premium. No overtime work is going on in the mason trade, because it is too expensive, but good mechanics are getting all the work they want. The regular pay is now seventy cents an hour.

Common brick has fallen as low as $6.50 per M by the cargo alongside the dock, which is much less than the price in the spring. The reduction is somewhat surprising, in view of the large amount of brick building, but is accounted for, first, by the increased supply over last year; second, by the smaller amount of office building construction and, third, by the large quantities of second-hand brick that are being used. Somehow the second-hand brick supply has been large this year, but it may not be so prominent later in the season, as there are signs that the prices of new brick will rise again. Portland and Rosendale cements are obtainable at very reasonable prices, notwithstanding that the year's output may beat the record. The cut-stone trade has about all the work it can do, and the plumbing trade is getting very busy also. Painters are promised the busiest fall in many years.

Death of Mr. McVickar.

A large number of friends from New York attended the funeral service in St. Andrew's at Southampton, L. I., on Thursday, over the remains of Henry W. McVickar, who died at Southampton on Tuesday afternoon, July 4. Mr. McVickar was president of the McVickar-Gaillard Realty Co., vice-president of the Empire Trust Co., a director of the Knickerbocker Trust Co., and treasurer of Gaillard & Co. Besides filling important places in real estate and banking, Mr. McVickar was an artist and illustrator of note, thus uniting in one person high attainments in a number of departments of business and intellectual pursuits. He had a wide acquaintance among cultivated people, and was highly esteemed for his personal graces, as well as admired for his abilities.

Born at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, the son of a clergyman, he was 44 years old and a graduate of Columbia. After his business apprenticeship, he became a member of the real estate firm of S. V. R. Cruger & Co., which was changed to McVickar & Co., was then evolved into the Realty Trust Co. and later was merged with the Empire State Trust Co. From that combination were formed, on account of a desire to separate the real estate from the banking business, the two companies with which Mr. McVickar was actively connected as long as his health permitted. These were the Empire Trust Co. and the McVickar-Gaillard Realty Co. As an artist he contributed to various publications, and was, we believe, one of the founders of "Vogue." Mr. McVickar was married to Miss Maud Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Robbins, who survives. There are no surviving children. The cause of death was pleurisy.

Although the trip to Southampton and return occupies practically a whole day a large number of prominent men attended the funeral services. The floral offerings were very numerous and unusually beautiful. The services were conducted by the Rev. William M. Grosvenor, rector of the Church of the Incarnation, and were most impressing. The interment was at Southampton.

On account of his health, Mr. McVickar had not taken an active part in the affairs of the McVickar-Gaillard Realty Company for some time past, and the business will be conducted as heretofore without interruption.

Railroading a Title.

A very interesting circumstance brought about by the passage of the Mortgage Tax Law occurred during the past week in the offices of the Lawyers' Title Insurance and Trust Company. Title to a sale of real estate to the amount of $300,000 was to be closed, and to evade the much-dreaded mortgage tax law, the papers in the deal must be on file in the Register's office before the ending of the day of June 30. Everything was going satisfactorily when, to the surprise of the Title Company and others, one of the parties in interest, whose signature to the papers was essential, notified the Title Company at 8:30 p. m. of June 29 that he could not be present, owing to his illness in the backwoods of Sullivan county. As the absence of his signature would prevent the deal going through on time, the Title people had to think quickly, and they proved, however, to be equal to the emergency. They immediately chartered a special train on the Ontario & Western Railroad and despatched two of their representatives, who arrived at the nearest railroad station in the early hours of the morning of June 30, and after a drive of ten miles in the woods, obtained an audience with the much-sought individual and had him attach his signature to the papers. They arrived in New York on the morning of June 30, and before 10 a. m. of that day the papers were duly filed in the Register's office. This is only another evidence of the thorough up-to-date progressiveness of the Lawyers' Title Insurance and Trust Company.

The New Waldorf Astor Block.

Later particulars from the plans for the new twenty-story apartment house which Clinton & Russell have on the boards for William Waldorf Astor, show that the smallest regular apartment will consist of four rooms, and the largest of eighteen, all having every modern convenience and many innovations that have not heretofore been placed at the disposal of hotel guests. In the larger apartments complete establishments may be maintained, with servants' quarters, private ballrooms, drawing-rooms, kitchen, servants' entrance, and in fact, every arrangement for convenience and privacy to be found in the most perfect private residence. A mezzanine floor will be so arranged as to provide for spacious banquet halls and ballrooms, and the rest of the building will be given up to apartments.

The finishings of the arcade and subway level are to consist of plate glass, marble and onyx, all in clear white, with light effects so arranged that the distance underground will not be perceptible, while the ventilation will be regulated by machinery, and a constant supply of air furnished at a regular temperature of about 70 degrees winter and summer. On the Subway level there will be a restaurant, cafe, palmrooms and lounging rooms similar in some respects to the ground floor arrangement of the Hotel Astor and Waldorf-Astoria. The next floor above, which will be at the street level, will comprise the hotel offices, corridors, cafe, restaurant, and possibly public offices for physicians, brokers and stores on the side streets. The building will have the main entrance on Broadway, and one almost as pretentious in West End av, where the carriage stands and carriage entrances will be located.

Our First Directory.

H. J. Sachs & Co., 6 and 8 West 22d st, the well-known real estate firm, have issued from the Winthrop Press a fac-simile of the first "New York City Directory," a little volume issued in 1786, illustrated with a plan of the city and prefaced by a general description written by Noah Webster. The edition, which H. J. Sachs & Co. have published with so much enterprise and good taste, is limited to six hundred and thirteen copies. It is printed on old-fashioned paper, and being a fac-simile, is reproduced in old-fashioned type, and with the other circumstances of more than a century ago. The book is certainly an addition to any library, and the publishers have the best of reasons for hoping that the work will be prized for the intrinsic value of its contents.

The General Arbitration Board of the Building Trades has taken up the matter of a strike among unskilled marble mill hands that has interfered with and to some extent involved one or more of the marble trades which are working under the Arbitration Agreement. The mill hands referred to struck for a new agreement some weeks ago. Except for this slight trouble, the marble industry is in very satisfactory condition.

A bluestone quarry of granite-like material is to be opened at Mamaroneck. With the shipping facilities existing there and the proximity of Mamaroneck to New York, there is expectation that it will mean a large business for a company which is to be formed to carry on this trade. F. Burchartz, architect and civil engineer, with offices at 321 German Saving Bank Building, corner 4th av and 14th st, New York, can give full information concerning this matter.

Long Island.

RICHMOND HILL, L. I.—The Carnegie Library at Richmond Hill has been completed and was opened with exercises on Saturday, July 1st.

OZONE PARK, L. I.—The corner stone of the new R. C. church at Ozone Park will be laid with imposing ceremonies on Sunday, July 9, by Bishop McDonnell, of Brooklyn.

LOCUST VALLEY, L. I.—The Long Island Railroad is planning to spend about $60,000 on five new stations, to be erected at Lawrence, Locust Valley and Sayville, on which work is soon to be started, and at Cedarhurst and Hewletts, for which plans are being made.

GLEN COVE, L. I.—At a special school meeting the sum of $37,000 was voted with which to build and equip another building to be erected to the north of the present building, on land which Charles M. Pratt, on behalf of the Pratt estate, has offered to donate to the district, if used for school purposes. The plans presented call for a 12-room brick building, 2 stories high, with basement.

TRAINS MEADOW.—Seventy-five acres situated at what is known as Trains Meadow, between Woodside and Elmhurst, was sold a few days ago for $300,000 to a syndicate represented by Bessie F. Goetschius, who refused to disclose the names of those associated with her in the transaction. A little over nine acres of the land is cut off from the remainder by Woodside av, and it has altogether a frontage of 1,800 ft. on that highway. The purchaser gave a mortgage for $150,000 to the Title Guarantee and Trust Co.

JAMAICA, L. I.—At the auction sale of 125 building lots conducted by Theodore F. Archer, on Saturday, July 1, on the property on Jamaica av, near Van Wyck, about $43,000 was realized. Those adjoining on Jamaica av went up to $800. The cheapest lots sold were some on the extreme south section and near the railroad, which realized $250 apiece. Only a few weeks ago this parcel of land sold at private sale for $30,000.

The Selection of an Engine for Electric Light Work.

An electric plant is like the heart of a human being. It is the centre and vital part of the system. It must never fail. Whether it be a public lighting plant, with many places of business and homes depending upon it for light, or an isolated lighting and power plant in one of our immense office buildings or extensive manufactories, the first essential is that it shall not falter.

In the selection of an engine the questions will naturally arise, What type shall we use? And shall we depend wholly upon one unit or shall we employ two or more units? Will the power task imposed upon the engine be constant at all times, or will it be variable? Will one large engine carry the load more economically than two smaller ones? The proper way to decide is to estimate the load from hour to hour throughout the run. Where the variation of load is not considered too great to preclude the use of a single unit, select that size of engine which will carry the load on the average most economically and yet has sufficient power to carry the peak (heaviest load). More often it will be found that two engines will be more efficient—one small or medium size for the hours of light loads, one of larger size for the hours of heavy loads. You then have a reserve of power and you operate economically.

The high-speed automatic self-oiling engine is particularly adapted for economical operation by a division of units. If you adopt a slow-speed engine, we may safely say you do not get that reliability or certainty of continuous, uninterrupted service you will from several moderate or high-speed self-oiling engines, correctly selected for the conditions of operation; with a single engine you are wholly dependent upon one machine, and are necessarily handicapped by having to run one large engine wastefully a large portion of the time, instead of dividing the run between two engines operated under economical, fuel-saving conditions.

We notice arguments and claims such as these made in behalf of the engines of A. L. Ide & Sons, whose New York office is at 11 Broadway, whence an exceptionally handsome and interesting catalogue issues, describing the various styles of engines made by this large concern.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

The tax sale order induced a large number of delinquents to settle their indebtedness to the city. A report made to Controller Grout on Wednesday by E. A. Slattery, shows that the collections during the month were not only greater than in any like period since the greater city was created, but that they were almost equal to the collections during June in each of the years from 1898 to 1904, inclusive.

Subscribers desiring to have the "Record and Guide" sent to their summer address will confer a great favor by always giving their old address as well as the new address in sending in their instructions to the office of publication.

Two blocks, at Locust av and 134th and 135th st, next the ferry, are now improved and will open for business upon the evening of July 12th, 1905. They contain stores for produce merchants, stands for 150 market wagons, 2 hotels and restaurants, both leased for terms of years, and stable accommodation for farmers' horses. THE MEANING OF THE

Cost-plus-a-fixed-sum Contract

Two or three of the largest industrial corporations—notably one of the Chicago packers—have recognized that the best method of producing buildings is identical with the most economical method of producing anything else. They embody in their organization a construction department under a high-salaried and competent head. They can thus control their building operations for the best and broadest interest of their whole business. A great many concerns have been deterred from this course by the fact that their building operations, though frequent and large, are not continuous. They do not feel like carrying a department which may be idle for a year at a time and they cannot get together an organization, nor can they secure a competent superintendent without guaranteeing permanent employment.

Our organization meets and eliminates these drawbacks. We will put our highly trained and systemized organization absolutely under the control of any concern retaining us. We become for the time being an integral part of their organization. We simply become the construction department. Our work can thus be directed to serve the best interests of the entire concern rather than the immediate interest of our one department.

The charge for such service is a fixed sum agreed upon in advance, and when the operation in hand is completed, the cost of the department is eliminated. In other words, we offer the services of a fully trained and highly organized construction department by the job instead of by the year. We solicit an opportunity of spreading before those contemplating construction the details of our system. It is a system from which red tape has been eliminated.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follews: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

IT IS WELL that a break in the Stock Market has occurred. The pace was becoming too rapid. A continuation of the bullish speculation, without any substantial set-backs, could only have resulted in a still severer break towards the end of the summer. The set-back was occasioned wholly by technical causes. The news of the week was practically all of it to the good. It looks as if the American farmer, who a few years ago was becoming a ferocious radical and was calling upon the government to help him out of his troubles, was destined to enjoy a long period of prosperity. He is tolerably sure throughout the current year of being able to sell a good deal of grain at high prices; and the conditions which are making for high prices seems to be comparatively permanent. At all events the Western farmer is accumulating money, and is consuming a much larger variety of products than formerly. A fact which serves to explain the great diversity of traffic on the Western railroads, and the extraordinary elacticity of their revenues. It was the continued prosperity of the farmer, which pulled the country through the crisis of 1903, and it still constitutes the chief impulse to the prevailing rate of industrial expansion. It has already placed the farmer in an excellent condition to stand a couple of bad years. Such years will come some time, but if their coming is postponed much longer, their effect will be comparatively small.

A GREAT deal has been written about the enormous amount of tenement house building now underway in Manhattan and the Bronx; but the volume of new construction which will be used for business purposes is in its way quite as remarkable. During the first six months of last year plans were filed for 115 new business buildings to be erected at an estimated cost of $11,428,000, whereas during the first six months of 1905 plans have been filed for 137 new edifices of this class, to be erected at an estimated cost of $19,280,000. This is equivalent to an increase of 16 per cent. in the number of these buildings projected and an increase of 35 per cent. in the amount of money which will be spent upon them. The figures are not as large as they were during the period of years 1901 and 1902; but they may become so before the end of the year, because there are a number of large building projects, belonging to this class which have not yet reached the stage of filing plans. This building is very well distributed throughout Manhattan. It includes a number of new office buildings and banking houses on the margin of the financial district, a great many loft buildings on or adjacent to Fifth avenue, and a still larger number of small factories situated in the tenement house districts of the middle East and West sides. Two huge department stores, one for Claflin and one for Altman, should also be mentioned. It is the product of a normal and wholesome business expansion—affecting alike all classes of trade, and without any symptoms of speculative excess. No new tendency of any importance is to be observed in this business building, but it is noticeable that the construction of new lofts now takes place almost exclusively north of 14th street. There is room for some further improvement of University place and its neighborhood; but North Washington Square, lower Fifth avenue and the streets near by will apparently be passed by in the process of business expansion. The area of activity in this kind of building is still chiefly between 14th and 23d streets; but there is a tendency to push north of 23d and to push as far east as Fourth avenue and as far west as Seventh avenue. The construction of so many department stores in the vicinity of 34th street has a decided tendency to take the wholesale trade still farther north. Within five years the popular section for the construction of loft buildings will be the district between 23d and 34th streets.

THERE are some indications that the different corporations interested in New York rapid transit are no longer as eager to compete with one another for the franchises of the new subways as they used to be. These indications are not as yet either very palpable or very numerous. They do not amount to much more than that the Interborough Company and the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., which were supposed to be in opposite camps, have reached a working agreement as to the division of traffic in Long Island City. But we imagine that this is one of those straws which shows the way in which the wind is blowing. The truth is that the local transit companies have every reason to combine in order to divide the spoils rather than to spend their money in what must be, from their point of view, ineffectual and costly competition. If either the Interborough Company or the New York City Railway Company could hope to obtain a monopoly of the new subways, it might pay to fight, but it is evidently the policy of the Rapid Transit Commission both to stimulate competition, and after getting the best possible terms from the two companies to divide the new routes between them. Under such circumstances it will surely occur to the managers of those companies that it would be well to agree upon some division of the routes in advance, and so reach the same result without paying the price of competition. Such an agreement is entirely practicable and could be reached without any merging of the different corporations. The result would be that the city would obtain a certain number of new subways, but that these subways would be built and operated on much the same terms as the existing subway, except that the city would not have to lend the credit which it cannot afford. But however much the Rapid Transit Commission might relish such an arrangement, it would not satisfy New York public opinion. There is a widespread conviction that the new subways should be leased both for a shorter term and at a larger rental than the present subway, and that if better terms cannot be obtained, the city should be prepared to build and operate wholly independent routes. There are many grave difficulties in the way of carrying out such a programme, but it is a contingency for which the Rapid Transit Commission should be prepared. The fact that no preparations have been made is simply an indication that the Commission, excellent as its work has been in certain respects, is not fully alive to all the conditions of the rapid transit problem in this city, and is in some respects behind the march of public opinion.

WHETHER or not the current negotiations end in a definitive peace between Japan and Russia, it is evident that nothing that can happen hereafter will essentially modify the situation, which must determine the conditions of that peace. Russia is beaten. The only way in which she can hope to do any further harm to Japan would be by prolonging a hopeless war and thereby seeking to exhaust her enemy's financial resources. But such a course would also exhaust her own financial resources, and would simply make the price of defeat increasing burdensome when that price came to be paid. Russia would be foolish not to wind up a bad business as soon as possible and pay whatever bills she has to pay. Her best chance is to make peace before the exhaustion of her national resources improves the opportunity of the revolutionary party. She is in a position analogous to that of France after the Franco-Prussian war. Her defeat has been due in part to the efficiency of her opponent, but it has been due still more to her own palpable deficiencies. It is evident that the Russian bureaucratic government has been entirely inadequate to the task of reorganizing Russian people for the military, naval and economic competition of the modern Europe. No nation can use properly the machinery of modern warfare unless certain of its people have received a thorough mechanical training, and unless these people are sincerely and disinterestedly devoted to their professional tasks. But Russia is a nation of peasants, governed by a corrupt and self-seeking clique of officials. The peasantry have neither the ambition nor the opportunity to prepare themselves for the use of modern machinery, and the whole official class has proved itself not only to be inefficient, but to be blind to their own faults and deficiencies. It remains to be seen whether the Russian despotic monarchy and its bureaus will understand how deep the evil is and how thorough the reorganization and reform must be. The only possible chance for Russia to regain her position among the nations and to resume her career of expansion lies in the more complete nationalizing of her government. The latent energies of the Russian people must be awakened and her whole system of government must be invigorated and moralized. If the Czar's government proves to be unequal to this task, we may be sure that in the long run the revolutionists will triumph and Russia will be torn for a generation or more by internal dissensions. For it is certain that a people who have enjoyed so important a European standing as that which the Russians have occupied will not submit to the humiliation of being permanently relegated to an inferior position, and that the future Russian government will be tested by its ability to bring the Russian national organization to the standard of modern efficiency.

The Election in the Fall.

THE municipal election which will be held during the coming fall does not promise to be either so close or so interesting as it has been on every occasion since the Greater New York became an accomplished fact. It does not look as if the opponents of the existing administration will be able to make any effective resistance to the ticket which Tammany will nominate. Whatever they do—whether they combine upon an independent Democrat, or whether the Republicans and the Citizens' Union nominate separate tickets—it seems inevitable that Mayor McClellan will be re-elected and that he will carry his ticket with him. A very strong independent Democrat might be able to make a good fight, and might even poll a larger vote than many people suspect, but it seems altogether improbable that he could actually defeat Mr. McClellan. For better or worse, New York will enjoy the same administration during the next four years which it has enjoyed during the last two years, and Mr. McClellan will have the distinction of sitting longer in the Mayor's chair than [illegible] has any man of the present or past generation.

What a curious piece of political ineptitude it was that the Republicans at Albany should have insisted on reducing the mayor's term to two years at the time when they had an excellent chance of electing a mayor and should then have raised it to four years just before an election, which they were tolerably srue of losing. The four years' term is, nevertheless, an excellent thing, because it helps to make a mayor more independent and it enables him to carry almost to completion any plan of municipal business or improvement for which he is responsible. The fact that he will be re-elected for four years will undoubtedly strengthen Mr. McClellan's hands, and enable him better to hold out against that element in his party which would like to return to the methods of the Van Wyck regime. We may expect that he will be more, rather than less, independent during the next four years, and that the City of New York will be better rather than worse governed. Whether he will be able to hold the balance as well between the general public opinion of the city and the particular public opinion of his own party remains to be seen. It is stated that a good deal of discontent may be found among the local Democratic leaders and their immediate followers, and this discontent might well become more active before another four years have elapsed. This is a matter, however, in relation to which no very confident predictions can be made. The Mayor possesses a real gift for reconciling apparently irreconcilible purposes; and for keeping his eyes very much open in some directions and discretely shut in others. His personality has won him as many friends as that of his predecessor aroused enemies He has given people confidence in his good intentions, and they believe that however much he is obliged to wink at certain practices, he will not allow the public interest to be seriously hurt.

Of even greater importance, however, than the personal intentions of the Mayor, is the constitution of the new Board of Estimate. That Board is, as we know, essentially the governing Board of the city. Its power has been increased since the last charter revision and it now possesses, in some cases, exclusive, and in other cases, final jurisdiction over the granting of franchises and the establishment of new streets. As long as the Board of Estimate remains honest and competent nothing worse can happen to the city than the occurrence of a certain amount of petty graft in the departments. Such graft is always to be regretted, but the public can abolish it when they please by electing the right kind of a mayor. The Board of Estimate on the other hand makes contracts and decides matters of policy, which sometimes commit the city for a generation to one line of municipal action, and any unwise decision, no matter whether it originated in a mistake of judgment or the influence of selfish interests, might cause a large and irremediable loss. In this all important Board, the Mayor does not possess any more power than the Controller and the President of the Board of Aldermen; and it is consequently as essential for the well-being of the city that these officials should be personally irreproachable, as it is that the Mayor should be. During the past few years New York has been exceptionally fortunate in having a controller of unimpeachable probity and of great energy and ability—a man whose ideas about all the important matters of city business are essentially sound and who has been very vigilant in safe guarding the interests of the tax-payer. It is much to be regretted that Mr. Grout will not succeed himself in his present office, because then the city might feel certain that the influences which have too often controlled the Board of Aldermen would not control the Board of Estimate. But since it is improbable that Mr. Grout will again be a candidate, the nominees for the controllership and the presidency of the Board of Aldermen should be subjected to the closest scrutiny. Indeed in a not improbable contingency an unimpeachable nominee to the latter office might be of more importance than a similar nomination to the former office. If Mayor McClellan should be re-elected by a large majority next November, he would become a likely Democratic candidate for the Governorship in the fall of 1906, in which event the President of the Board of Aldermen might succeed to three years of his new term. Inasmuch as in that case the new President of the Aldermen would then be elected by that body and would have three votes in the Board of Estimate, it is possible that the Board of Estimate would be controlled by the very interests and influences whose domination in the Aldermen have deprived that body of all public confidence. Of course there are a good many "ifs" about all this, but the contingency we have indicated is not so remote that public opinion should not insist upon having Democratic candidates for the offices of Controller and President of the Board as disinterestedly devoted to the public welfare as is Mayor McClellan.

Two New Hotels.

IN ADDITION to the hotels the completion of which is assured at a comparatively early date, such as the Hotel Belmont, the Hotel Knickerbocker and the New Plaza it is now stated that two other large hotels are under consideration and will probably be finished within a few years. One of these is to be erected by the William Waldorf Astor branch of the Astor estate on the block bounded by Broadway, West End avenue, 78th and 79th streets. Some years ago it was proposed to build an apartment house on this block, but for various reasons the project was abandoned. Inasmuch, however, as the property is very valuable, it is not likely to remain unimproved much longer—particularly in view of the fact that a building erected on the plot could have the advantage of a direct connection with a subway station. This hotel will, of course, be intended for permanent rather than for transient residents, and there is no reason why it should not be as successful as the Ansonia. It is on the edge of the most important apartment-house and hotel center in New York City, and the management of the Astor buildings is such that they are very popular with tenants. The other new hotel is to be erected by the Pennsylvania Railroad on the site of the terminal at Seventh avenue and 32d street. This is not a location which under ordinary circumstances would be considered a good one for a great hotel; but the influence of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company should be sufficient to make it a success. It is obviously to the interest of that company to improve as much as possible the neighborhood in which its terminal is situated, and no better means to this end can be used than that of erecting a great hotel. Such an enterprise populates the neighborhood with people who spend money freely and support by their patronage a large number of shops. The Waldorf-Astoria, for instance, was directly responsible for the shops on 33d street and had a good deal to do with the recent development of 34th street. A large Pennsylvania hotel which would be patronized by the enormous following of that great railroad would have something of the same effect upon 31st, 32d and 33d streets, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, and in this instance the process will be accelerated by the fact that the railroad company itself owns many parcels of property in the vicinity, which will not be used for the terminal and which will eventually be covered by new and handsome business buildings. Of course, it will be four or five years before these plans are carried out and by that time it is probable that New York will be ready for another new hotel. We have not heard so much recently of the increasing metropolitan importance of New York, but it is apparent that even if the process of concentrating the management of big financial and industrial enterprises in this city has been temporarily checked, New York is more than ever coming to occupy a unique place among American cities. If any one doubts how far the rest of the country is interested in New York, let him notice the large amount of attention which New York affairs receive in the newspapers of any of the large Western cities. More and more well-to-do Americans are in the habit of coming to New York to spend their money, and New York on its part is making more and more elaborate preparations to receive and entertain them.

Future Building in the Bronx

Efforts Organizing to Have More Private Dwellings

A QUESTION that has been propounded to the business men of the Bronx in a manner that calls for a representative expression of views, relates to the nature and character of the future building in that borough. The question implies a fear that sufficient opportunity may not be provided for the most desirable forms of home life, that the crowded tenement will be unduly multiplied, and "a tenement colony," however, inappropriate now, may become a term too well fitted to the Bronx to be either financially or æsthetically agreeable. If there were nothing but cheap tenements none but cheap people would there seek a home; but it is because of the charm, the appearance of comfort and the prettiness of the private dwellings heretofore erected that people think of the Bronx with respect and affection.

Let us get a basis of agreement for a starting point and the question will be answered with greater unanimity by an interested public. It is reported that some five hundred real estate brokers and general business men have received or are to receive interrogatory letters from the North Side Board of Trade inquiring for the opinion and advice of each as to the best forms of building which the Bronx can consistently expect or hope to influence. Probably everybody will subscribe to this principle, that every family should have a separate and private dwelling; that the ideal home is a house for one family, detached, with God's free air on all sides of it, and some of His green grass, trees and flowers around it.

A HOUSE FOR EVERY FAMILY.

Now, as such a dignified and comfortable situation cannot be provided for every family, how nearly can it be achieved? Is there anything the municipality in its official capacity can do to encourage the erection of the largest possible proportion of single family dwellings, and the fewest possible number of tenement houses—by which latter term the law describes houses intended for more than three families. Next to the detached one-family house is the one having the appearance of a private dwelling, but arranged for two families—one part for the owner and the other for a tenant. This is the next best thing to having a house all to oneself. In villages and small cities it is the usal way to begin housekeeping in the "upper part" of a house, the owner occupying the lower part, or first floor and basement. If rapid transit kept in advance of the population, as it should, new districts would be opening up constantly under the operations of builders; and under such circumstances land in the distant suburbs ought not to be too expensive for the single or two-family dwellings.

Experts in Bronx real estate who have been consulted by the Record and Guide agree that two-family house operations extensively conducted would pay, and probably more certainly pay than the high-class apartments which already in the Bronx show signs of faltering. In the absence of two-family houses the demand is for flats or apartments renting for less than twenty dollars a week. How necessary these are can be learned, if not already realized, from a consideration of any wage scale. Commissioner Butler says the best way to solve the tenement question is to raise wages—and the tenement question is very close to this Bronx building question. Already it is reported that high-priced apartment building has been overdone, but the supply of the moderate priced is inadequate. But no uncertainty prevails as to the kind of a house most desired by tenants; the difficulty is to make builders comply.

FARTHER NORTH FOR THE HOME SEEKER.

Mr. Charles A. Weber, of 633 East 149th st, speaking of the future character of the building in the Bronx, said: "The lower section will be built up with tenements and apartment buildings, on the side streets, excepting 149th st, which will be built up of large store and office buildings from 3d av, west to Morris av. There is a good demand for 2 and 3-family houses from investors.

"Also, we have a good demand for cheap apartments for rent, three and four rooms and bath, and it would pay builders to construct five and six-story apartment houses with four to six families on each floor, without steam heat, suitable for the working class.

"I think there are at present a sufficient number of high-class apartments already constructed, as that class of property does not rent very well at present. The rents average from $4.50 to $5.50 per room, according to the improvements and neighborhood.

"Also, it would pay to construct two and three-family houses in the section west of Webster av, in the vicinity of 183d st, where the prices of lots are still reasonable, there is also a good demand for Woodlawn Heights, and at Unionport for one and two-family houses, and I think it would pay to RESTRICT THE NATURE AND CHARACTER of houses in certain residential sections of the Bronx."

PRESENT APARTMENT HOUSE CONSTRUCTION TOO EXPENSIVE.

Mr. William I. Brown, of R. I. Brown's Sons, of No. 3428 Third avenue, remarked that in his judgment both private and tenement construction would be the lines on which builders will operate.

"Demands are made by a great many prospectve buyers and tenants for private or moderate priced two-family houses," he continued. "This class of house has been built heretofore, and there are a few of such in first hands, and the demand would warrant the construction of more such houses. The more recent operations have been in the larger apartment houses and this has driven the buyer or tenant who desired a strictly private location farther north in the Bronx, which fact has been clearly demonstrated by the active bidding at the auction sales of property in Wakefield section and other outlying districts.

"The supply of apartments wherein the rents range from $30 to $50 per month at present exceeds the demand. We attribute this, however, to the summer season, and look forward to the occupancy of all vacant apartments in the early fall, when families return from the country and seek homes for the fall and winter. Our experience has demonstrated to us that September is a better month for renting apartments than May.

"We feel that the class of apartment houses being erected will be beyond the reach of the great majority of flat seekers, whose income will not permit the payment of a rent in excess of $20 to $25 per month, and would urge the erection by builders of such class of apartment houses."

OVER-SUPPLY OF HIGH-PRICED APARTMENTS.

Mr. Edward Polak, of 4030 Third avenue, said:

"The future character of building operations in the Bronx will depend largely upon the site value of the section to be improved. Where land is not expensive, private dwellings will be built, where land is comparatively high, flats and tenements will be erected. There are sections in the Bronx now, where the value of building sites is too high for private or two-family dwellings, and which are not yet ripe for improvement for flats or tenements, such sites will remain inactive until such time as population will have alvanced enough to admit of the building of flats, tenements, etc.

"The sections of the Bronx called Williamsbridge, Bedford Park, Wakefield in the North, and those to the east of the Bronx River, called Unionport, Van Nest and Westchester will be improved with private or two-family dwellings, because building lots are comparatively cheap. South of Tremont av, to the Harlem River, land being more expensive, flats and tenements will be erected.

"I believe more of the cheaper grade of flats and two or three family houses will be built, as there seems to be a great demand for that class of houses. The greatest demand, however, is for two-family houses. Those who are fleeing, as it were, from Manhattan to escape the blighting influence of tenement house life, hoping to procure a home with a 'little bit of land,' are numerous. If they find a desirable home within their means, they buy or rent, as the case may be; if not they fall back again into the tenement houses to live dissatisfied and impaired lives.

"The present supply of reasonably priced flats and dwellings is inadequate to meet the demand. The prevailing rents in the Bronx for flats are from $3.75 to $5 per room per month. This class of houses is well rented. If more were erected they could easily be rented and sold.

"BUILDERS SHOULD ERECT ONE AND TWO-FAMILY HOUSES IN LARGE NUMBERS, AS THERE IS GREAT DEMAND FOR THEM, AT A REASONABLE PRICE.

"It would be impossible to restrict the character of the houses to be erected in the Bronx. It is a very large territory and inhabited by a cosmopolitan class of people. The demand for houses will differ according to the wants of the people living in the section to be improved. These demands will determine the nature and character of the house to be constructed.

"In my opinion three things would encourage the erection of more houses: First, cheaper building material; second, cheaper building sites; third, the abolition of taxes on all buildings irrespective of the tax on the land.

"If this could be, the building industry would receive a great stimulus, for as capital and labor would be freed from monopolistic prices of raw material and the onerous burdens of taxation, they would harmonize and work for each other's interest, instead of fall to fighting as they do now. The result would be steady employment for capital and labor, and fair rents for the tenants."

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Herts and Tallant Get Brooklyn Academy.

Plans by Messrs. Herts & Tallant, of 32 East 28th st, Manhattan, have been selected and unanimously accepted by the Board of Directors for the new Brooklyn Academy of Music, which is to be erected on Lafayette av, extending from Ashland place to St. Felix st, Brooklyn. As planned, it will contain an auditorium with seating capacity equal to the Metropolitan Opera House. Its concert hall will seat 1,500, and measure 40x125 feet.

The building will contain a large lecture hall and classrooms, which will be used by the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. The successful architects have planned many noteworthy structures in this country, chiefly the New Amsterdam, Lyceum, and Liberty theaters, the Bates College library, Smith College chemical laboratory and several business and public buildings.

The competition consisted of ten well-known architects chosen from a list of twenty-eight names. The plans were delivered on June 24th to Professor Warren P. Laird, of the University of Pennsylvania; William M. Mead, of McKim, Mead & White, and John M. Carrere, of Carrere & Hastings, appointed experts selected by the board to make the award. Of course no contracts have yet been made for erecting the building.

Bids were opened on Wednesday, July 12th, by the President of the Board of Trustees of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals, on First av, Manhattan, for the excavating, piling, masonry, carpentry, steel construction, and the electric, heating and ventilating and other work, for Pavilions A and B of the new Bellevue Hospital, situated on 1st av, between 26th and 29th sts. The time for the completion of the work is within 450 days. The amount of $120,000 security was required.

The first section, to be known as the southern wing, will consist of two pavilions 7 stories high. Each will be 150 ft long and 36 ft wide, enclosing a court 64 ft wide on two sides. $850,000 was appropriated by the Board of Estimates and Apportionment to start the work, and this amount is now available for the erection of the southern wing. McKim, Mead & White, of 160 Fifth av, the architects, originally designed a building to cost $12,000,000, but these plans were modified without sacrifice to capacity or convenience. The two new pavilions are to be connected by a 7-sty administration building. Roof gardens, open balconies, and sun rooms will be provided to accommodate all the patients. The purpose of the Board of Trustees is to build each year, tearing down the old buildings as work proceeds. Bids will also be opened on Monday, July 17th, for plumbing, drainage and other work.

BROADWAY.—A report circulated during the week that Edward M. Mr. Knox, when interrogated for the Record and Guide, said: "I have leased my entire building to the United Cigar Stores Co., for a term of 21 years, making it necessary for me to move. I have simply leased the front store at 189 Broadway, in the Mercantile National Bank building, and will move to the new location about August 1st. The rumor that I will build is absurd. ### The Cement Market.

The gradual upward movement of the cement market seems to have been interrupted. While some brands have held their prices firmly, there has been a decline of at least five cents a barrel for the product as a whole. The expectation that quotations would advance five cents each month has not, therefore, been fully realized. Dealers admit the slight reaction, but on the other hand the well-known brands are able to maintain the highest quotations they have thus far put forth this season, so that the reaction affects the minor companies the most. A good reputation counts when the market begins to slide back.

Excavating has begun on the site of the "Colony" at 120, etc., Madison av. McKim, Mead & White, architects; Jacob & Youngs, general contractors. Plans filed. Full particulars previously printed.

T. Henry Randall, the well-known New York architect, with offices in the Madison Square Tower, died on Friday, July 5th, at Annapolis, Md. He was a member of Beaux Arts and the New York Architectural League.

Old stable properties on the north side of 24th st, about 80 ft. west of 3d av, have been torn down to make way for the new 10-sty horse mart for Fiss, Doerr & Carroll. Horgan & Slattery, architects. (Mr. McDonough in charge.) Previously and exclusively mentioned in the Record and Guide.

Work was started on Wednesday last on the Labor Temple, which will be erected by the Workingmen's Educational Society, on the north side of 84th st, 101.8 feet west of 2d av. The Thompson-Starrett Co., 49-51 Wall st, has the general contract. F. W. Fischer, 23 East 23d st, is architect. (See also Record and Guide July 1.)

The Kinnear Pressed Radiator Co. has removed from 41 East 21st st to the Flatiron Building. The company is making a pressed metal radiator that is very light, but durable and staunch. This firm has been making rapid progress the past few years among discriminating architects and builders, as their radiators are a distinctly new type and contain in a marked degree the characteristics of modern fittings.

Nos. 115 and 117 East 29th st are being torn down. The work began on Thursday. They are to be replaced by a laboratory building for Richard Hudnut, perfumer and pharmacist; Henry Ives Cobb, architect. Plans filed. Previously mentioned. With the tearing down of these 2-sty red brick dwellings set far back from the street, the old East Side loses two quaint little landmarks.

Henry Miles & Sons' new show rooms at 2073 and 2075 Fulton st, near Rockaway av, Brooklyn, are most spacious. The display of mantels in oak, birch, mahogany, maple, sycamore, hazel and other woods are in great variety and in all grades. In addition, beautiful examples of tiling for bathrooms, kitchens, vestibules, hall and fireplaces, and andirons, fenders, and firesets in the latest designs may be seen. Architects, builders, and others in the market for these lines of goods would do well to call.

House of Mr. J. B. Harriman, Mount Kisco, N. Y.

The writer of an article on "Great American Estates" in the July number of the Architectural Record is responsible for the assertion that the better American work in domestic design is being achieved in houses which cost somewhere between $25,000 and $150,000. An illustration, if not a proof, of this statement may be found in the house of Mr. J. B. Harriman at Mt. Kisco N. Y. Mr. Harriman's dwelling is distinctly a medium-priced building, although it tends towards the upper rather than the lower end of the limit. The scale of the place is precisely that which should commend itself to a well-to-do gentleman in search of a country residence. It is not so large that its inhabitants would become insignificant compared to their appurtenances; yet it is large and handsome enough to give an effect of ease, good taste, of hospitality, and of well-favored abundance.

The exterior is in no particular style, yet it immediately arouses associations with a sound and attractive style of domestic architecture. It is a balanced composition, well scaled in its subordinate members, frank and simple in its detail and both picturesque and vigorous in its total effect. The design of the interior possesses similar characteristics. The living-room is not only spacious and comfortable, but, what is a very different thing, it gives the sense of being spacious and comfortable. It is not filled with irrelevant and futile properties and adornments. It is simply a fine large room, paneled to the ceiling, in dark wood, and furnished in any style you please. It is large enough to hold the two Davenport lounges—an article of furniture which is as modern as it is excellent in the right place—and some good, solid, comfortable chairs. For the rest, its very bareness is attractive. There are not many things, but whatever is, is right—among which may be mentioned the snug way in which the book-shelves are fitted into the walls. Some objections may be taken to the scale of the very beautiful mantelpiece, to its relation with the paneling behind, and to the brick lining of the chimney, which would have looked better in a grayish tone; but these are minor blemishes.

Inasmuch as this house is only recently finished, it still requires the confirmation which comes from several years of use. The grounds have not received the attention they will eventually get, and the rooms are still of course aggressively new; but the occupants of the house are to be congratulated upon the start towards a most satisfactory result, which has been made with the assistance of their architects Messrs. Howard Morgan and Waid.

Electrification of the Long Island R. R.

Electric trains may be running regularly between the station at Flatbush av, Brooklyn, and Jamaica, on the Long Island R. R., in about two weeks. A test trial of the working conditions appears to have been made a week or two ago with satisfactory results, although the branch track used was only half a mile in length, being between Springfield and the Locust av shops at Jamaica. It is stated that a maximum speed of 57 miles an hour was attained by a five-car train.

Mt Kisco. N. Y. LIVING-ROOM IN THE HOUSE OF MR. J. BORDEN HARRIMAN. Architects: L. Henry Morgan, John G. Howard, D. Everett Waid.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

W. & G. Bachrach, 35 Nassau st, have their new lists ready. Will be mailed to brokers on application.

Henry A. Bogert, a real estate lawyer prominent in Queens Borough, died at his home in Flushing, from injuries received in being run over on Broadway, in this borough, on July 4. He was a useful and esteemed citizen.

John Van Boskerck Clarkson died suddenly from heart trouble at his home, 317 West 88th st, yesterday, in his 47th year. He became associated with his father in the real estate business in 1884 under the firm name of Floyd Clarkson & Son, at 29 Broadway.

The Phenix National Bank, now located at 49 Wall st, is said to have made a tentative offer of from $65,000 to $75,000 a year for a 6 or 7-sty building to be erected at No. 1 Wall st. Among the directors of the bank are: August Belmont, E. W. Bloomingdale, Alfred M. Bull, D. Crawford Clark, George M. Coffin, Elbert H. Gary, R. H. Higgins, Jr., Daniel S. Lamont, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Henry K. Pomroy, J. C. Van Blarcom, George Coffing Warner and Finis E. Marshall.

City Register John H. J. Ronner was served on Thursday with an order to show cause why a mandamus should not be issued against him in a suit of Michael H. Isaman, because the Register refused to record a mortgage unless the tax of one half of one per cent, in accordance with the new law, was paid. Mr. Ronner sent the papers to Attorney General Mayer. The purpose of the proceeding is said by the City Register to be purely to test the constitutionality of the new tax law.

—Some misapprehension in regard to the old "Elm Street" and the new "Lafayette Street" may be allayed by the information, which comes from the chief engineer of the Department of Highways, that Elm st, as it now exists, extends from Reade st to Worth only. The old house numbers for this section have therefore been retained. The street which has been recently designated Lafayette street extends from Reade street to Eighth. The house numbers cannot be settled until next December, as there is an ordinance preventing the changing of house numbers between May and December. When these numbers are fixed it will be in the usual manner, beginning at the south end. The fact that some property maps designate an old Elm and a "New Elm" also has caused some doubt, which this information may remove.

—The owners of the space needed for the enlargement of the Manhattan terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge are resisting condemnation proceedings strenuously, and thus far successfully. The nullification of the first condemnation proceedings, by the courts, for the reason that in the case of the owners of one of the parcels no effort to agree upon a price was made by the city, as the law requires, has caused a repetition of all the legal formalities. The Board of Estimate has had to reaffirm its approval of the building plans, and the case has again been referred to the Corporation Counsel's office with an order to begin condemnation proceedings all over again. It is evident that the owners are well satisfied to retain their property, having no desire to sell at any price the city would care to pay, and there is, therefore, no probability that any understanding will be reached this side of the final decision of the highest court.

—The Brunswick Site Co. of New York was incorporated at Albany, on Thursday, with a capital of $2,000,000. The stockholders in the new corporation are understood to include the principal underwriters of the $7,500,000 bond issue made a couple of years ago to the Brunswick Construction Co., which proposed to erect a 20-sty hotel on the east side of Fifth av, from 26th to 27th st. The directors are George H. Robinson, G. Louis Boissevain, Alfred G. Evans, Walter Geer, Wilhelmus Mynderse and John S. Hoyt of New York, and B. P. Cheney of Boston. The site, which includes the old Hotel Brunswick property, cost the company $2,520,000. It comprises twelve and a half lots. The purchase of the plot being completed early in 1903. Since that time the public and particularly the building trades have waited in vain for its building to appear. The understood reason was that the company changed its views regarding the advantages of the site for a hotel, rather than for a building of another kind. It is safe to predict a fine structure of some sort, in the immediate future, as it is said the new corporation will continue the building project.

Free transfer, without restriction, between the Subway and the elevated divisions of the Interborough Rapid Transit, at 149th st, which is now in force, taken in connection with the opening of the trans-Harlem division of the Subway, is the consummation of all the hopes for East Bronx rapid transit. It means that the tenantry for the apartments and dwellings now under construction within an easy walk of the elevated divisions in the borough will soon be at hand. With a ten cent fare, which Mr. Belmont was hoping to exact from a part of his patrons, there would have been a doubt that the Subway was the great prosperity bringer which had been predicted. But the final announcement that five cents shall be the total fare by either the elevated or the Subway from the Battery to West Farms or Fordham, makes every promise good, justifies the high prices of land, and rewards the enterprise of builders. A service for the West Bronx almost an equivalent, in advance of the building of the Jerome avenue Subway, would be free transfer from the main Subway line at Washington Bridge (and the projected University Heights bridge) to the Interborough's new trolley lines that are to be run through that half of the borough.

Brooklyn Real Estate Company in New Hands.

The control of The Leonard Moody Real Estate Co., 187 Montague st and 309 Flatbush av, has been purchased by David Michael, of 356 Fulton st, and Benjamin H. Roth, of Roth & Dumproff, 367 Fulton st.

The Moody Co. has been in existence for more than forty years, and during that time has done a very extensive brokerage business in the Borough of Brooklyn. Its policy has been to do business on a strictly one per cent commission basis. This policy is to be continued.

There were several rumors that other interests were interested in the purchase of the Moody Co., but Mr. Roth states that Mr. Michael and he are the only ones interested in the purchase of the company, and any statement to the contrary is without foundation.

No Vacancies in South Brooklyn.

People who have waited until now to secure a house in South Brooklyn will probably not be accommodated; everything habitable in that section is occupied and dwellings nearing completion have almost all been disposed of. Improvement companies are convinced of the continuance of the present South Brooklyn boom for the next ten years, and are operating accordingly. Outside capital is coming in freely. A prominent real estate dealer of Bay Ridge has just returned from an extended trip through the west, where he went at the solicitation of western investors, who want to get into South Brooklyn territory.

Third Deal for Coney Island Lots.

An important real estate transaction of the week was the sale of ninety-six lots on East 3d st and Neptune av, Coney Island, by the brokers, Vennette F. Pelletreau & Company, to Joseph Rubenstein for the owners. The consideration was $69,000. This is the third time in three months this property has been sold, and each time at a profit to the owners.

The same brokers also sold the corner of Hancock and Evergreen av to L. S. Seligman for $11,000, being a 3-sty frame flat. They also sold 60 Gratton st, a 3-sty flat, to Andrew Wischertt, the wholesale grocer in Greenpoint.

They also sold 143 North Gramercy Park, New York, for $45,000, for E. Grace and Martin to James McLoughlin; also 129 and 133 Rogers av, Brooklyn, two 3-sty double white stone front apartment houses, for $33,000, to Alexander Lowenwirth.

Announcement has it that the elevated structures in Brooklyn are to be painted. The structural iron and stations will be painted the usual red and yellow. Charles Cranford, of 38 Court st, has received the contract.

President Littleton, of Brooklyn, has made the following appointments: Inspectors of Regulating, Grading and Paving, at $4 per day, Timothy Harrington, of 283 Pacific st; Nicholas J. Flanagan and William A. Stage.

Map of Additional Rapid Transit Lines.

We have on sale, printed on one sheet, the maps of the additional rapid transit lines recently adopted by the Rapid Transit Commission. Orders for copies should be sent to the Record and Guide, 14 and 16 Vesey st, The price will be 25 cents each.

Bell, owner and builder, 50 West 100th st, has started excavating on the flat house which he will build on the northwest corner of 183d st and Wadsworth av, from plans by Moore & Landsiedel, 2810 3d av. Building will be 50x67, built of brick and stone and have all modern improvements. Approximate cost, $50,000. Previously mentioned. Owner superintends and buys all material.

New Jersey.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—E. Phillips, builder, 2954 Boulevard, Jersey City, will rebuild four 2-sty frame dwellings on Germania av, recently destroyed by fire.

NEWARK, N. J.—T. C. Hughes, 22 Clinton st, Newark, N. J., is taking figures on a 4-sty apartment house, 57x75, to be built at Nos. 217-219 Plane st, Newark. Mrs. J. P. Thompson, 215 Plane st, is the owner.

ORANGE, N. J.—The proposition of the Orange Board of Education that $40,000 more be asked for to erect the new high school has not been received with favor by the community; it was practically decided not to accede to the request.

ALLENHURST, N. J.—Plans for the proposed new Baptist Church, to be erected at Allenhurst, N. J., have been prepared by Ernest A. Arend, Appleby Building, Asbury Park, N. J., and have been accepted by the trustees. Work on the structure will begin in a short time.

ARLINGTON, N. J.—The Elm Realty Co. of New York, has awarded a contract to Salmond Brothers, of Arlington, for the erection of a 3-sty brick building, to be used for manufacturing pearl buttons, novelties, etc., for the Essex Pearl Button Co. The site for the proposed structure will be on the east side of Devon st, between Laurel and Stewart avs, and when in complete operation will represent an outlay of $100,000, and give employment to 400 hands. The buildings will be 150x50, with boiler-house attached. John R. O'Connor, of Seeley av, Arlington, one of the members of the realty company, will assume entire charge of the plant, which is to be in operation by Nov. 1.

Projected Buildings in Other Cities.

LEBANON, Pa.—At Lebanon the lowest bid sent in for the erection of the new Federal postoffice at Lebanon was by Richardson & Burgess, of Washington, D. C., for $50,647.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—James Stewart & Co., Chicago, Ill., have started work on the erection of the grain elevator, 29x85, at 3042 Market st, this city, for the Quaker City Mill Co.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Sperry & Treat got the mason work for the new laboratory for the governmental experimental station on Huntington st. Ritchie & Johnson will do the carpenter work. L. W. Robinson, New Haven, is the architect.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Estimates are in and contracts will probably be awarded at once for alterations and additions to the Trumbull Trust Association Building on High st. The plans are by F. H. Bosworth, Broadway, New York.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Henry P. Schneider, 9th and Tioga sts, is taking bids for 47 2-sty houses and two stores, to be erected at 3d and Westmoreland sts. They will be built of brick and contain 5 and 7 rooms each, with all modern improvements.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—John R. Wiggins & Co., Heed Building, have submitted bid for the Messiah Universalist home to be built at the southeast corner of York road and Ruscomb st. It will be 3 stories high, 32x70. Plans by N. C. Kleinfelder, architect.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—J. W. Northrop, 211 State st, has plans completed and ready for estimates for the new factory building to be erected on Union sq by Jennings Bros. There will be a brick building 30x60 and another 40x90, each 4 stories high, of mill construction.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A house is to be built by Lieut. Kittelle of the United States Navy, on California av, from plans prepared by Totten & Rozler. The design will be colonial and the material used in the walls will be red brick with white stone trimmings.

BALTIMORE, Md.—Walter B. McArdell has bought from the Security Trust and Storage Co. and George B. Baker, trustees for the Baker estate, the Friendsbury property, at the intersection of Baker and Monroe sts. The old mansion on the property will be razed and the property will be improved with a number of dwellings.

AUBURN, N. Y.—J. R. Hoyt, of Des Moines, Ia., an inventor, is looking for a suitable site for a factory to manufacture a patent fly-frightener, designed for restaurants, hotels, etc. Mr. Hoyt says that several Auburnians have evinced a desire to unite with him in the organization of a stock company.

ALLEGHENY, Pa.—Mr. D. Roney will erect a 2-sty and attic brick dwelling at 3370 Perryville, at a cost of $10,000. The contract has been let to Hays Bros. & Dodds.——Murphy Bros. have the contract for a 3-sty brick manufacturing building on East Ohio st, for Kreas Bros. The cost will be $10,500.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—William S. Kimball, builder and owner, 4101 Chestnut st, will erect 10 up-to-date dwellings on the west side of 43d st, south of Spruce st, 4 stories, 16x58, of brick and stone, with porch fronts, and contain every modern appointment and convenience. The operation will cost $56,000.

MISSISSIPPI.—At Agricultural College, Miss., the Board of Trustees of the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College has authorized the building committee to advertise for plans and specifications for a building to be fitted up for dairy purposes. The plans will be selected at a meeting to be held July 13. The estimated cost is $10,000.

CHESTER, Pa.—Contractor William Provost, Jr., has obtained the contract to erect a handsome dwelling at the northwest corner of 20th and Providence av for Mr. Wm. J. McClure.——There is considerable talk of erecting an auditorium with a seating capacity of about 800, at 12th st park. Manager Joe West can give information.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The house at the corner of Erie and Messmore sts, owned by ex-Senator John B. Henderson, is to be remodeled from plans prepared by Totten & Rozler, architects. The purpose is to make the exterior harmonize with the other houses on the street. Mr. Henderson is building at the other end of the block. The outside walls are to be stuccoed.

MORRISVILLE, N. Y.—The State Prison Commission has condemned the Madison County Jail at Morrisville, and stated that if the county does not take steps to remedy the condition now existing, the State will take the matter up and compel the erection of a new jail, meeting with the approval of the commission. A site at Wampsville seems to be agreeable to the people of this end of the county.

BALTIMORE, Md.—Isaac Weinberg, who purchased lots 9 and 11 West German st at the burnt district commission auction sale, has selected Louis Levi, Central Savings Bank Building, to prepare plans for a 5-sty warehouse to be erected on the properties. They have a combined frontage of 37 ft. One of the lots is 49 ft. deep and the other 62 ft. The warehouse will be of brick construction, with elevator and all conveniences.

UTICA, N. Y.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the T. W. Baxter Co., held during the past week, the following officers were elected: President, Dennis Moynehan; treasurer, Charles H. Winant; secretary, Thomas W. Baxter. The company has purchased a lot on North Genesee st, on which it will erect a large warehouse and will deal in papermakers' supplies, wood stock, scrap iron, metals and rubber.

BALTIMORE, Md.—Mr. Louis J. Roth and Mr. A. C. Schmidt have bought a part of the site of the Daily Record at the southwest corner of Fayette and St. Paul sts, and will erect a 6-sty fireproof office building on the site. The first floor will probably be fitted up for banking purposes.——David M. Newbold, Jr., and James B. Newbold have bought 704 West Lombard st, and will improve the site by the erection of a 4-sty warehouse.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—It is expected that plans for the new Connecticut Savings Bank will be ready shortly for estimates from the contractors. A magnificent 1-sty structure is planned by New York architects.——Estimates are now being made for the new house to be erected by E. S. Kimberly on Rock road. Brown & Von Beren, New Haven, architects. It will be a 9-room house with hard finish wood throughout and all the latest improvements.

ALBANY, N. Y.—It is probable that only one of the proposed new buildings at the State Hospital will be erected this year. The bids were higher than were expected, and it is now thought that the appropriation will not be sufficient to cover the cost of both buildings. It is certain that the building for chronic insane will be erected this season, but it is probable that the one for acute patients will go over until another appropriation can be made next year.

EASTWOOD, N. Y.—Fifty houses will be built at once on Eastwood Heights by the Corporation Liquidating Co. The company has engaged F. P. Suydam, of Baldwinsville, to be in charge of the work of construction. The houses will average about $1,500 and will be built in lots of five. The total cost will be about $75,000. The company recently acquired 1,400 acres of land at Eastwood. Mr. Suydam has been in charge of the construction work at Grantwood on the Hudson River, which is being built up by the Columbia Realty Co.

BALTIMORE, Md.—Archer & Allen, Baltimore, have prepared plans for a handsome edifice to be erected at Stevenson, in the Green Spring valley, for the Methodist Episcopal Church at that place. The structure is to be constructed of stone and will be about 80x80 ft. It is the intention of the church to spend about $10,000 and $15,000 on the building. The plans have been sent to Rev. C. Herbert Richardson, presiding elder of Baltimore district of the Methodist Episcopal Church. They will probably be sent out for estimates next week.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—Plans are being prepared for a block to be erected on Fairfield av for Philip and Henry Blansfield. Work on the building has been deferred until fall.——The new house on Noble av, in course of construction for Joshua Fox, is ready for the plastering.——John Donovan, who had plans prepared for a block to be erected on Howard av, has now sold the site to E. J. Kelly. The new owner will improve the property, but as yet details of the plans have not been decided. ——Work is progressing rapidly on the Newfield av schoolhouse.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—The New York, New Haven and Hartford road has let the contract for the erection of a station at Mystic to William Paterson of this city. It will be a frame structure with a stone foundation, 24x65. There will also be a shed for freight 16x300. Estimates for the plumbing and heating are now being received. Mr. Paterson has also obtained the contract for the erection of a freight house for the road at Waterford. It will have a platform 200 ft. long and be 25x50 ft. Composition roofing will be used to cover it.

BALTIMORE, Md.—It is reported that the contract for the erection of the warehouses on the north side of Lombard st, between Gay and Frederick sts, for the trustees of the Johns Hopkins Hospital will be awarded to Walter E. Burnham, of Baltimore. The structures will cost about $100,000, and will be 4 stories high with basement. They will occupy a site with a frontage of 165 ft. and a depth of 80 ft. Archer & Allen are the architects. There are only a few lots in the burnt district controlled by the trustees of the hospital that are not improved, and plans for these will probably be prepared this summer.

ALLEGHENY, Pa.—Mr. N. B. Taylor has returned from New York city and has announced that the Phipps tenement houses in Allegheny will not be started until after August 1st. The plans are being prepared with a view to the best of sanitary conditions. There will be 300 suits of apartments all thoroughly equipped for living purposes. Each tenement will be 5 stories high. It is stated that Mr. Phipps has decided to improve the site of the old Charles' nut works with similar tenements; also the lot at Rebecca and School sts.——Boggs & Buhl have under consideration the erection of an 8-sty building on Park way and West Diamond st. The proposed new building will be connected with their present store on the opposite side of the street by an arched bridge. It will be fitted up as a power plant for the general store and also for a wholesale department.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follews: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

July 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13.
